Why be a Friend of the North Webster Library?

Benefits: You'll volunteer along with others in FOL to support our Library. It's work, that's true, but the best kind of work: the kind that improves the community, and our lives, for now and the future. You will have the chance to buy book sale books every meeting day and the day prior to the opening of the book sale. Plus, you have the joy of working with like-minded friends for a common purpose.

The fine print: FOL's bylaws say "The purpose of this organization shall be to assist the North Webster Community Public Library in the dispersal of donated and unused books to raise monies to further education, literacy, promotion of library services, and through volunteer efforts stimulate gifts of books, collections, endowments and bequests to the North Webster Community Public Library."

Where does the money go? It may be used for library materials and equipment, programs and services, guest speakers, scholarships, and other kinds of support. FOL is a state-recognized nonprofit organization.

Book Sales: Is that the "dispersal of donated and unused books"? Yes. When book donations come in, the Library gets first dibs. What they do not need on the shelves, FOL sorts, prices, stores, and gets ready for the next book sale (4 each year). And, speaking of book sales, the next sales are scheduled for:

December, 2-4, 2010

April 28-30, 2011

June 23-25, 2011

September 22-24, 2011

December 1-3, 2011

Will you give your time as a member (dues are $12 a year), and your gently used books, DVDs and CDs? All the preparation for the book sale takes time, so please donate your items soon.

Why be a member of the Friends of the North Webster Library?

Because the North Webster
Community Public Library
can't have too many Friends!
