1978
Homecoming
King and Queen

Kevin
and Marti

1. Hal Hammaker escorted Marti DeWitt and Jackie Glon down the field while Laurie Pryor and Mark Lantz waited with Mickey and Minnie Mouse. 2. Brenda Skeleton and her escort Kevin Marose waited for the outcome.

On October 6, as the band played "When You Wish Upon a Star," the Homecoming King and Queen candidates were escorted across the field by Mickey and Minnie Mouse. Anticipation filled the air for the highlight of homecoming week had finally arrived. There was a drum roll as Kevin Marose and Marti DeWitt were named King and Queen. Runners-up Jackie Glon and Hal Hammaker completed the 1978 Homecoming royalty.

1. 1978 Homecoming King and Queen candidates, Row 1: Brenda Skeleton, Hal Hammaker, Laurie Pryor, and Mark Lantz; Row 2: Marti DeWitt, Kevin Marose, Nancy Amos, Andy Brown, and Jackie Glon. 2. Andy Brown escorted Nancy Amos down the field.

*When you wish
makes no difference
who you are.*

1. The Warriors battled the Plymouth Rockies on Friday night to climax the activities of Homecoming week. 2. Mr. Zurcher and Steve Peach gave the Juniors some last minute instructions. 3. The Junior and Senior girls battled it out during the powder puff game.

Homecoming 1978 presented "Disney on Parade." The classes' and many clubs' hard work provided fantastic floats. The Junior Class proved their worth by winning the powder puff football game and capturing awards for "Best Class Float" and the "King's and Queen's Trophy." As is tradition, Homecoming was climaxed by a football game with Plymouth and the coronation of a new King and Queen.

1. The Deca float, "Herbie the Love-Bug", won the award for "Most Original Display." 2. The Junior Dwarfs, J. Meditch, A. Speicher, T. Campbell, C. Cole, M. Cox, L. Brouwer and R. Garr took a time out from their work to pose for a picture. 3. Sophomores S. Boggs and M. Gans worked on their float "Thumper."

1. Curt Clevenger as Jeffery sang, "We Beseech Thee." 2. Jo Easter told us to learn our lessons well. 3. Mike Wakeland set the mood of the play with his opening song, "Prepare Ye." 4. Laurie Pryor, Joann, strained to forgive her brother, Lamar, Tracy Bartow. 5. Chris McFarland portrayed Steven in the dramatic ending.

Godspell and Oklahoma give three performances each.

Once again the Drama Department turned out two excellent performances with the help of the Music Department on the spring production. This year the stage was set for two musicals, instead of the usual fall drama production and the spring musical. The high school felt the beat of religious rock when the Drama Club danced, sang, and told various parables during the play Godspell. Oklahoma was the spring play, and the cast really got into the spirit of the old west.

1. Lori Sliger played in her first major role as Aunt Eller. 2. Laurie Pryor finished her high school acting as Laurey, the lead in Oklahoma. Chris McFarland, Curly, sang "Surrey With the Fringe on Top." 3. Clay Bowman, Andrew Carnes, his daughter, Ado Annie Carnes, Liz Davenport fought with the peddlerman, Mike Wakeland. 4. Everyone enjoyed the bidding at the Box Social for Annie's hamper.

Convos add excitement to an ordinary day.

1. Mr. Blackwell directed the band at the Veteran's Day Assembly. 2. Frank Gonzales told of the evils of drugs and alcohol. 3. Mr. Royer paid us a visit dressed as Santa Claus during the Christmas Concert. 4. Darle Hoover as Johnny Carson interviewed Professor Phillip Fillup, Mike Shock, as part of the Winter Comedy Review.

This year WHS had a large variety of convocations. The cheerleaders presented many rousing pep sessions. The Drama and Music Departments provided the Winter Comedy Review and the Christmas Concert. Mr. Zurcher and the band combined pictures and music for an excellent Veteran's Day Assembly. Students were also visited by several outside groups: Frank Gonzales and the Freedom Sound, Rex Hamilton as Abe Lincoln, the Ball State Symphony Orchestra and the Concord High School Jazz Ensemble and Swing Choir.

1. Tim Kroh smiled after receiving a kiss from his mother. He thought it was from a cheerleader. Surprise! 2. "Stud row," as they awaited kisses from the Varsity Cheerleaders. 3. Was Abe Lincoln still alive?

May 5, 1979 . . .

"A Night of Jungle Love" was the theme chosen for the 1979 Senior Prom. The senior class worked long hard hours for six days preparing the gym for the big night. The gym was transformed into the depths of the jungle, complete with a cave entrance, stream, animals, trees, cannibal tribes, and a mossy ceiling. Animal crackers, elephant ears, and "jungle brew" were served for the refreshments. The seniors and their dates danced to the music provided by "High Flyers."

1. The friendly natives who served the refreshments were Laurie Brouwer, Mel Zurcher, Jan Miller, Angie Reed, and Joanna Spearman. 2. "High Flyers" provided the music for some "bungle in the jungle." 3. Mike Kissinger and Tracy Rinker got spiffed up for the occasion.

1. Scott Wilson and Carmen Bryant had a night of romance. 2. The Seniors and their dates danced the night away. 3. Greg Carpenter and Kelli Price shared a private joke.

*Don't follow where the path may lead.
Go instead, where there is no path and leave a trail.*

On May 20, 1979, the 224 seniors brought their high school careers to a close. The weatherman co-operated and the gym remained comfortable for families and friends who had gathered to witness the commencement exercises. The class chose, "Don't follow where the path may lead. Go instead, where there is no path and leave a trail," as their motto. The class flower was the white rose.

1. Roger Shipley, junior class president, and Melanie Zurcher, junior class vice-president, were chosen to lead the procession. 2. The senior girls who participated in choir during the past year sang the school hymn.

1. Melissa Tom and Melinda Allen walked out of the gym after making sure their diplomas had been signed. 2. Jo Easter accepted her diploma from Principal Henry Smith with a smile of relief.

The administration act as mediators.

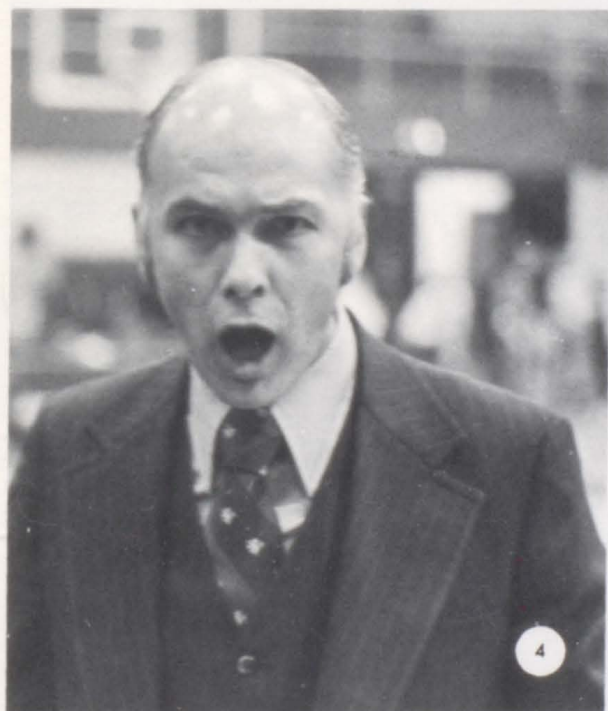

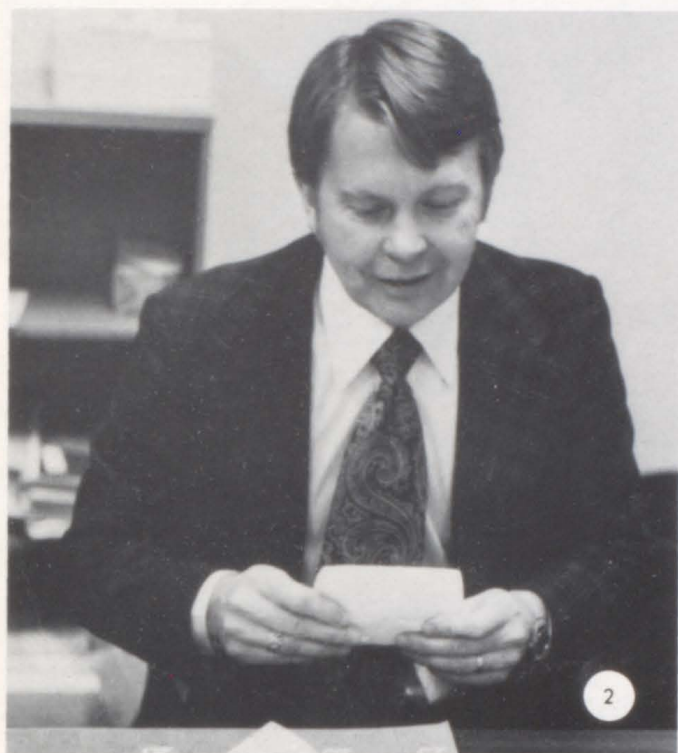

Once again the administration of Wawasee kept the school running smoothly. They developed the new policies that were effective during the 1978-79 school year and discussed the possible future plans. The school board had a few new additions to their team and met once a month to discuss financial matters.

1. Mr. Grabowicz, B.A., St. Francis, M.A., Notre Dame, worked hard to keep the students where they belonged. 2. Mr. Smith watched an outdoor convocation with admiration. 3. Mr. Meditch, B.A., DePauw, M.A., State University of Iowa, the Athletic Director, took time off to work in the refreshment stand and seemed to enjoy it. 4. Basketball coach and I.S.S. director, Mr. Jones, M.S., B.S., Indiana State, took a break during his busy schedule.

1. The school board consisted of, seated: Mr. Arnold, Mr. Little, Mr. Baker; standing: Mr. Payne, Mr. Kroh, Business Manager Mr. Lantz, Mr. Walker. 2. Mr. Wysong, B.S., M.S., Indiana State, Vocational Education Director, was hard at work. 3. The Vice-Principal, Mr. Kesler, B.S., Manchester, M.S., Indiana University, was caught strolling down the hall. 4. Mr. Smith, B.S., Indiana State, M.A., Ball State, was amazed at the Warriors' performance at the game. 5. Dr. Robinson, B.A., M.A., Indiana University, was the new Disadvantaged Director.

Guidance assists in planning futures.

Once again the guidance department managed to get through another year of helping students with their future plans. They assisted many students through the pressures of the PSAT and SAT tests. The counselors helped students decide on colleges, scheduling classes and applying for scholarships. The guidance counselors were Mrs. Kambs, B.A., M.S., Indiana State; Mr. Marlette, B.A., Kalamazoo, M.A., Michigan State; Mrs. Robinson, B.S., M.A., Ball State.

1. Mrs. Robinson explained her occupation to the third period career class. 2. Not only did the counselors give advice to students, they also helped each other. 3. Mr. Marlette spent many hours getting the seniors off to college.

W.H.S. secretaries are kept busy.

Without the efficiency of our secretaries, our school would soon decline. Besides typing, dictation, and answering the phones, they performed many other assorted tasks from keeping the vocational office running, to selling basketball tickets. Of course Ruth Angle remained relentless in her attendance keeping, which helped to keep everybody where they were supposed to be, and maintained order throughout the school. Without these ladies, our school would have a hard time functioning.

1. The secretaries caught stepping out for a breath of fresh air were Ruth Angle, Janet Hamman, Janet Elam, Betty Haines, Dana Arthur, Sally Baker, Esther Rider, and Jane Gorsuch. 2. Dana Arthur and Debbie Clingaman were kept busy in the vocational office. 3. Esther Rider was a familiar person in the Guidance Department. 4. Ruth Angle quizzed Danielle Neibert on her whereabouts over the weekend while Sally Baker took notes.

The Learning Resource Center (L.R.C.) was like a second home to many students. Freshmen came to escape an hour of study hall. Sophomores looked up many interesting career opportunities. Juniors were kept busy with research, and the seniors just tried to finish all that senior homework.

1. Library Aide Janet Allen, with her usual smile, checked out a book to Dianne Frew. 2. Mary Whiteman, A.B., M.L.S., I.U., shot a glare to those who broke the tranquility of the library. 3. Margaret Reider, Library Aide, made sure the books were in order. 4. Students enjoyed a peaceful break after a long, hard day.

A.V. gives aid to both students and teachers.

The Audio Visual Department, run by Mr. Jones, B.A., Franklin, M.S., E.D.S., Indiana University, deserved much recognition. Mr. Jones and his equipment went totally unnoticed by many students. They did not realize all that this department did. Mr. Jones worked hard all year keeping the P.A. system in top condition, setting up speaking systems for various convocations and meetings, and made it possible to hear our own high school radio station.

1. Mr. Jones checked over a projector. 2. Mr. Jones kept the Audio Visual Department running smoothly. 3. Mr. Jones took a short coffee break from his busy schedule.

The custodians help to establish Warrior pride.

The custodians worked night and day to keep Wawasee spotless. Their constant cleaning enabled students to take pride in the school and retain many happy memories.

1. Orris Flannery and Roy Stiffler kept the commons clean for invalids like Debbie Bartow. 2. Orris Flannery gave mopping a whole new aspect. 3. This year's staff consisted of, standing: Ed Green, Orris Flannery, Vivian Kern; seated: Norman Robie, and Roy Stiffler. 4. Vivian Kern helped the cooks clean.

We can cook, too!

The cooks worked hard to please every kind of appetite. The newly created Salad Bar was the perfect answer for the light eater. Yogurt and fresh fruit were offered to those who wished to slim down, and the Al-A-Carte line seemed to have something to suit everybody. Lines one and two still offered the nutritious hot meal with all the supplements needed for after school activities. For the first time, study hall students were allowed a snack break which enabled all to enjoy the benefits of the cafeteria to its fullest.

1. Caught in rehearsal for their daily routine were Lois Murray, Pauline Firestone, Alice Miller, Vivian Kern, Lois Koher, Diane Shock, Naomie Schlaugenhaut, Phyllis Metzger, Marilyn Grindle, Bertha Rhodes, Mildred Coy, and a recent addition, not pictured, was Jackie Dunithan. 2. Lois Koher reaped the rewards after another day of cooking. 3. Lois Murray kept things sparkling. 4. When it came to washing dishes, Naomie Schlaugenhaut was tops.

Math provides a logical approach to today's problems.

The math courses provided a stimulating awakening to many students. Although those story problems and theorems often baffled many, once they were learned a sense of great achievement was felt. From Basic Math to Advanced, students learned valuable aids for problems later in life.

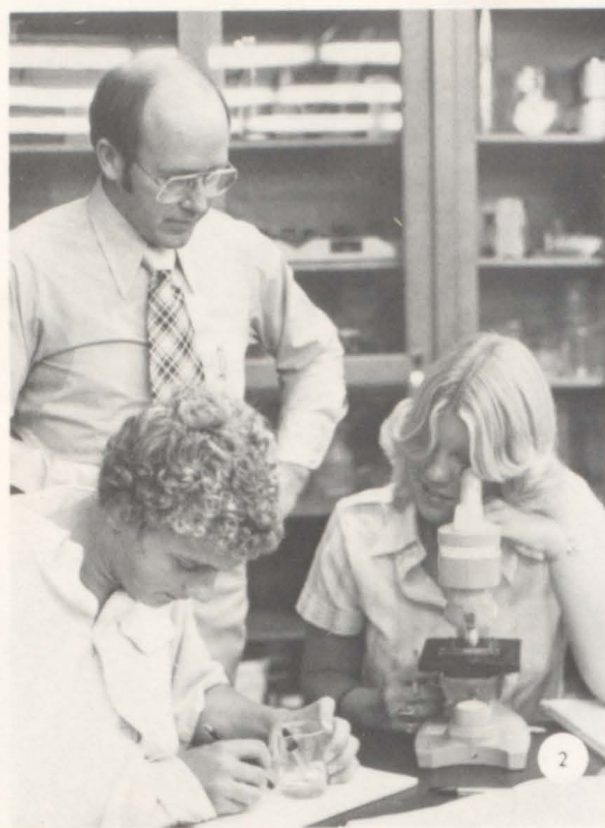

1. Jim Method showed typical enthusiasm over the subject of math. 2. Ted Mahnensmith, B.S., M.S., Manchester College, ruled his class by fear. 3. Daryl Umbower, B.A. Grace College, M.S. St. Francis College, held story hour in his Geometry class. 4. Mike Tom cast a suspicious look at the teacher.

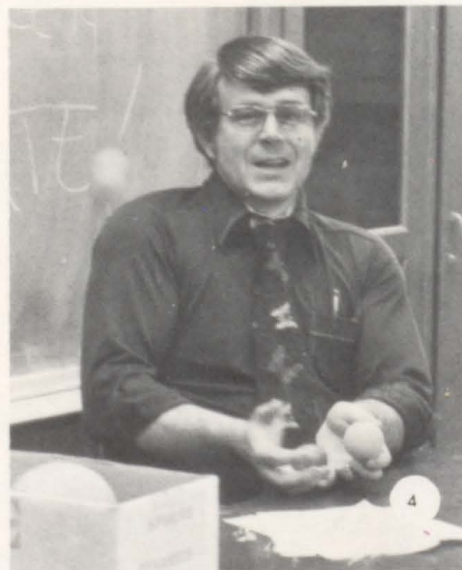

1. Fred Flintstone, alias Michael Neff, B.S., M.S. Purdue Univ., waved to the folks. 2. Terry Frank, B.S., B.S.U., M.S. Univ. of Mexico, explained to Wayne Newman and Greg Timmons how to draw a picture. 3. Jim Webster, B.A. Grace, M.S. Purdue Univ., blushed for the camera. 4. Malia Smallwood took time out from studying to watch someone walk by. 5. Keith Bowman, B.S.F., M.F. Univ. of Mich., showed Mike Coy the trick to the problem.

The science student pokes both pigs and plants.

1. N. Herrick took a break during water studies. 2. D. Rigterink and T. Kroh got aid from Mr. Hall while discovering new forms of life. 3. W. Kitson looked discouraged as he graded the 5th period Chemistry quiz. 4. Mr. Keiper learned a new trick.

If you were ever walking down the hall and smelled a strange aroma, it was more than likely the science department's fault. The science classes offered this year covered everything from plants to pigs. All of these were covered well, and for the most part students had fun doing so. The science department's staff included Mr. Bowman, B.S.F., M.F., University of Michigan; Mr. Hall, B.S., Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, M.S., University of Utah; Miss Juday, B.S., Michigan State; Mr. Keiper, B.S., Manchester, M.S., Notre Dame; Mr. R. Kitson, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State; Mr. W. Kitson, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State.

1. Science staff, standing: Mr. Keiper, Mr. R. Kitson, Mr. Hall, Mr. W. Kitson, Mr. Bowman; sitting: Miss Juday. 2. Miss Juday regressed back to childhood. 3. H. Beer worked hard to find the cell's structure. 4. The Kitson brothers' presented their version of the popular rock song "Double Vision."

Students learn to read, write, and research.

No longer was Language Arts based on reading and writing, but also on acting, playing vocabulary games, and learning the importance of communication. Wawasee had a large and successful Language Arts Department, and this was made possible by the help of the instructors: Mr. Fawley, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State; Mr. Iden, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Mrs. Harkleroad, B.A., Wittenberg, M.A., Notre Dame; Miss Kehoe, B.A., M.A., Ball State; Mrs. Medich, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Mrs. Powers, B.A., M.A., Ball State; Mr. Robbins, B.A., Ball State, M.S., Purdue; Mrs. Rush, B.A., Manchester; Mr. Zerkel, B.S., Manchester, M.S., Purdue; Mrs. Zile, B.A., Manchester, M.A., St. Francis; Mrs. Roose, aide-

1. Language Arts staff, standing: Mrs. Rush, Mr. Zerkel, Mrs. Medich, Mr. Fawley, Mr. Robbins; sitting: Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Harkleroad, Mr. Iden, Mrs. Zile, Mrs. Roose, Miss Kehoe. 2. C. Parr and D. Barrett acted out a scene where an employee was trying to get a raise. 3. Miss Kehoe had a private discussion with D. Smith. 4. Mrs. Roose checked over some papers.

1. Mr. Fawley must have been checking his answers with Scott Wilson. 2. Mr. Robbins enjoyed his H.I.T. period almost as much as teaching. 3. Mr. Iden had to take extreme measures of punishment to handle his English students this year. 4. Mrs. Rush took a short break from her book to smile. 5. Mr. Zerkel seemed to be working hard during his communication class.

Foreign Language provides an interesting change of pace.

1. Norma Rush, B.A. Manchester College, kept her eye on things. 2. Such dedication! No matter where they were, Carla Darr, Beth Burke, and Susan Naab remained oblivious to everything but their Latin. 3. 4. Linda Kehoe, B.A., M.A. B.S.U., showed the fun and work of teaching.

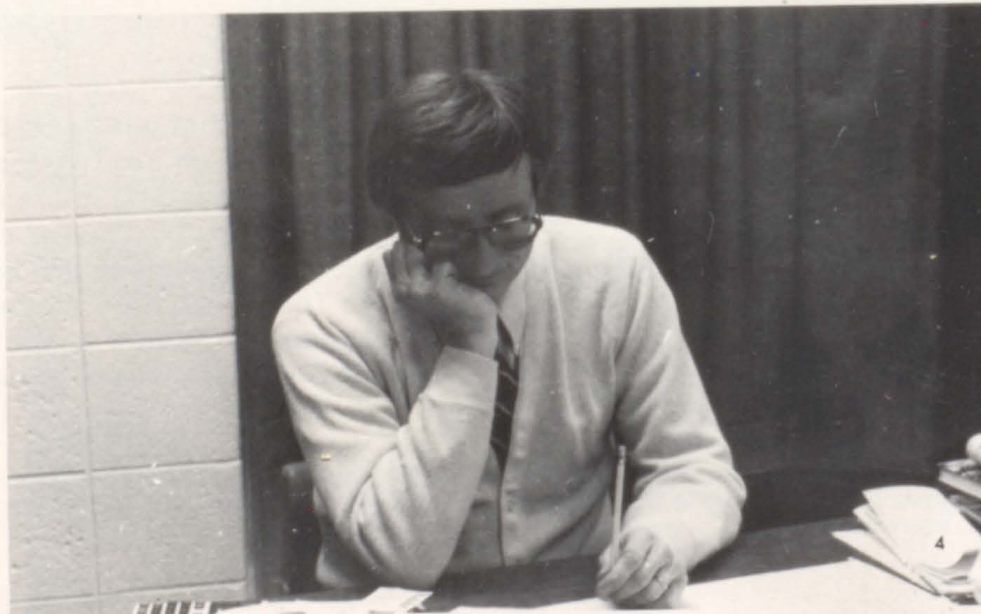

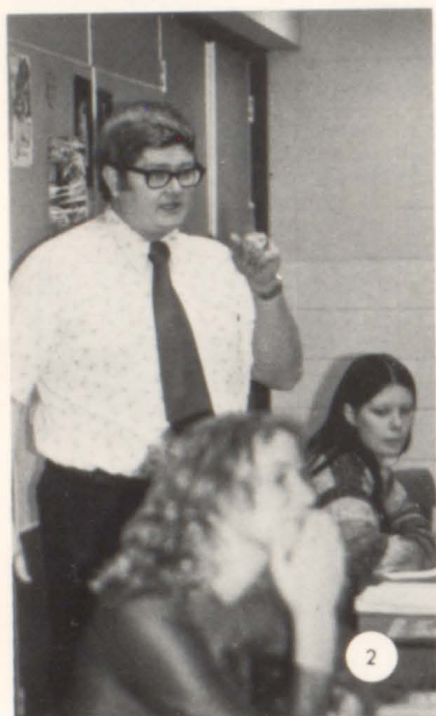

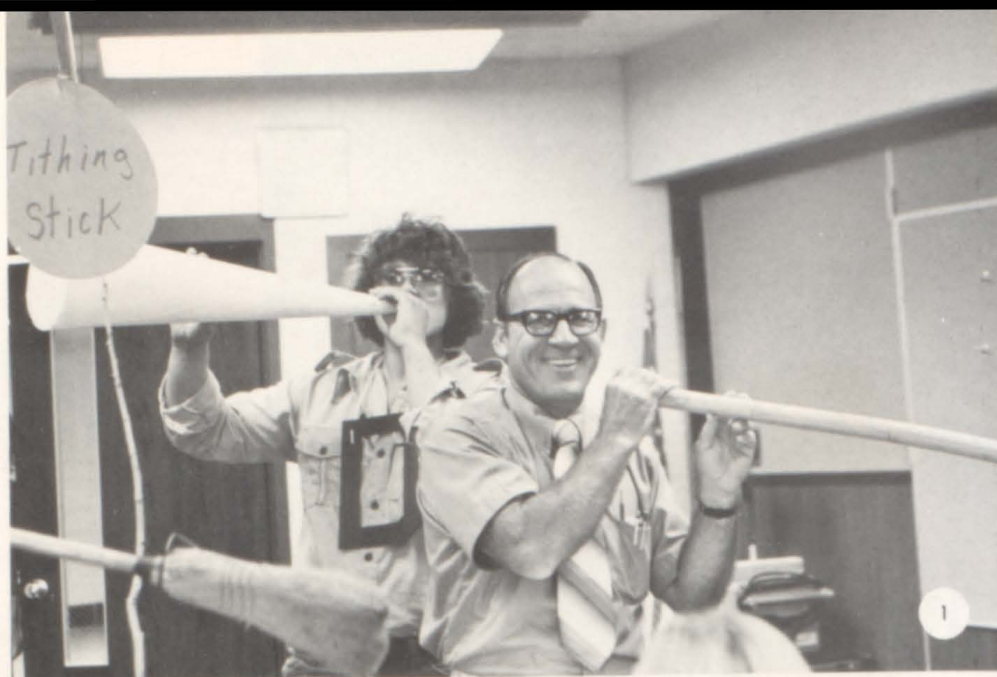

The Foreign Language Department offered three different courses from which a student could choose. A student could travel to Spain or France and return home again daily. Gaul became a vivid province in the Latin II class and Hercules' true self was revealed in his famous twelve labors. Many outside activities went on also. The French class produced a praiseworthy float for homecoming and many students with Latin background ventured to the Chicago Art Museum to see the famous city of Pompeii.

1. Stanley Grabowicz, M.A. N.D.U., B.A. St. Francis College, liked the answer he received. 2. What was Tim Bause listening to that produced such a smiling face? 3. No, Susan, you can't leave yet. 4. Students spent a typical day in Latin II. 5. Mrs. Rush tried to interest the class.

1. Tony Siri taught Vernon Zurcher how to do a few things. 2. Terry Iden got very angry, but Boody Brewer just smiled. 3. Karen Patton and Angie Reed tried to concentrate on the weekly quiz, but something was making them smile. 4. Hal Traviolia, B.A. Wabash College, M.A. B.S.U., enjoyed the crossword puzzles.

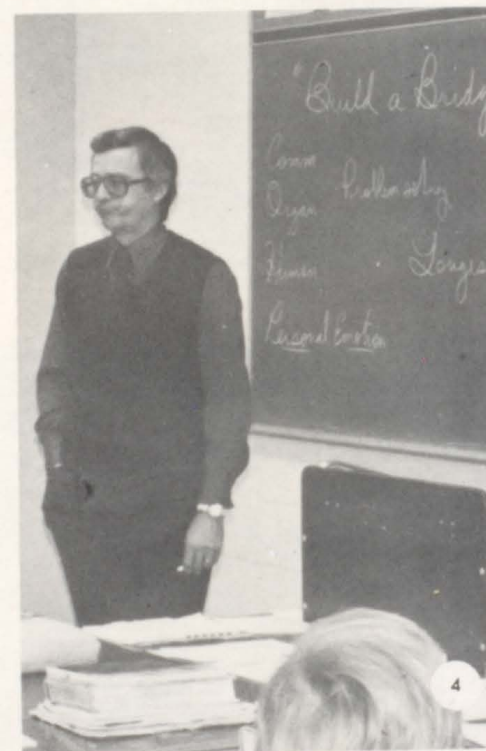

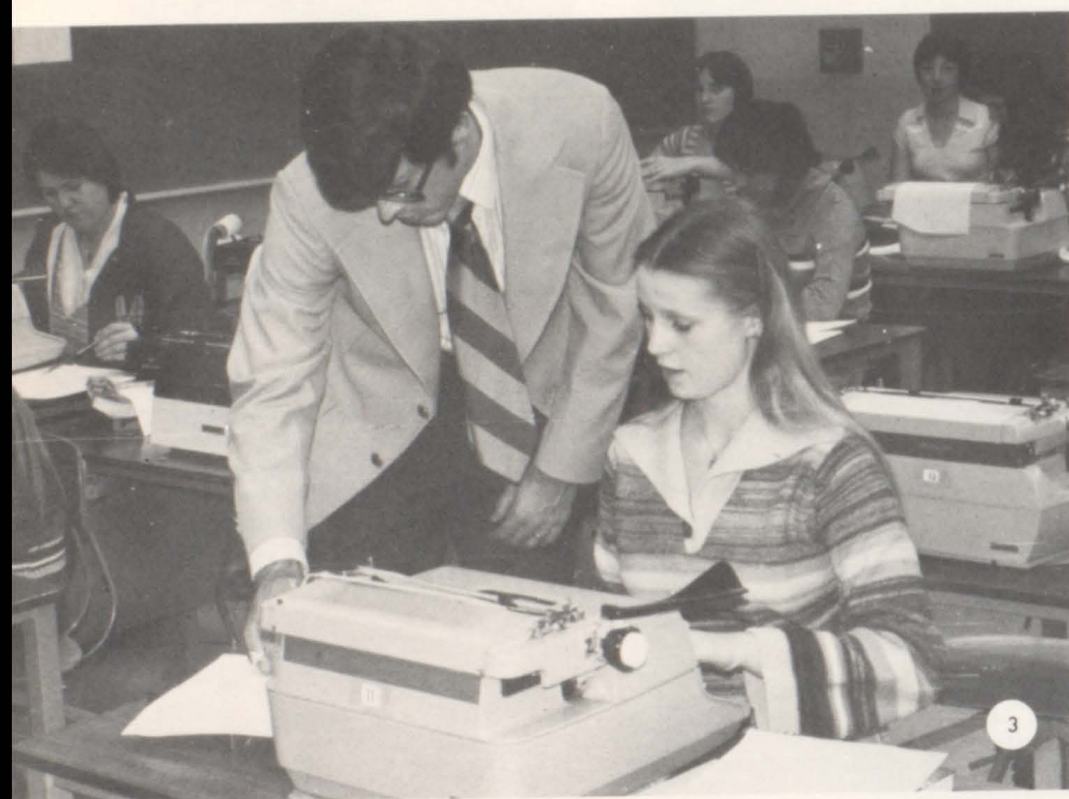

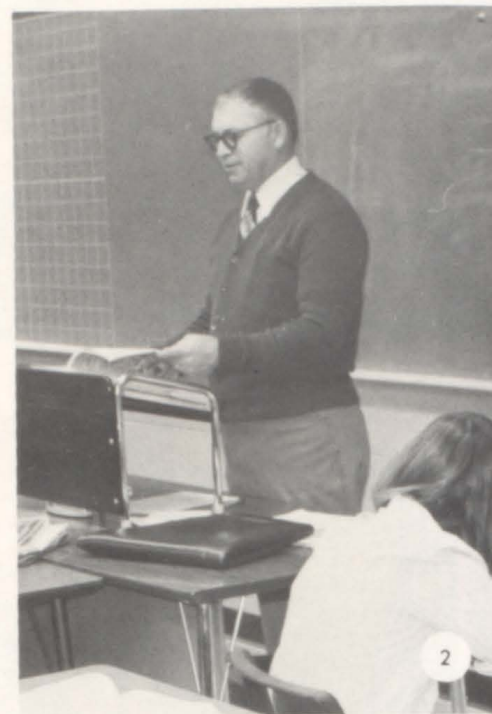

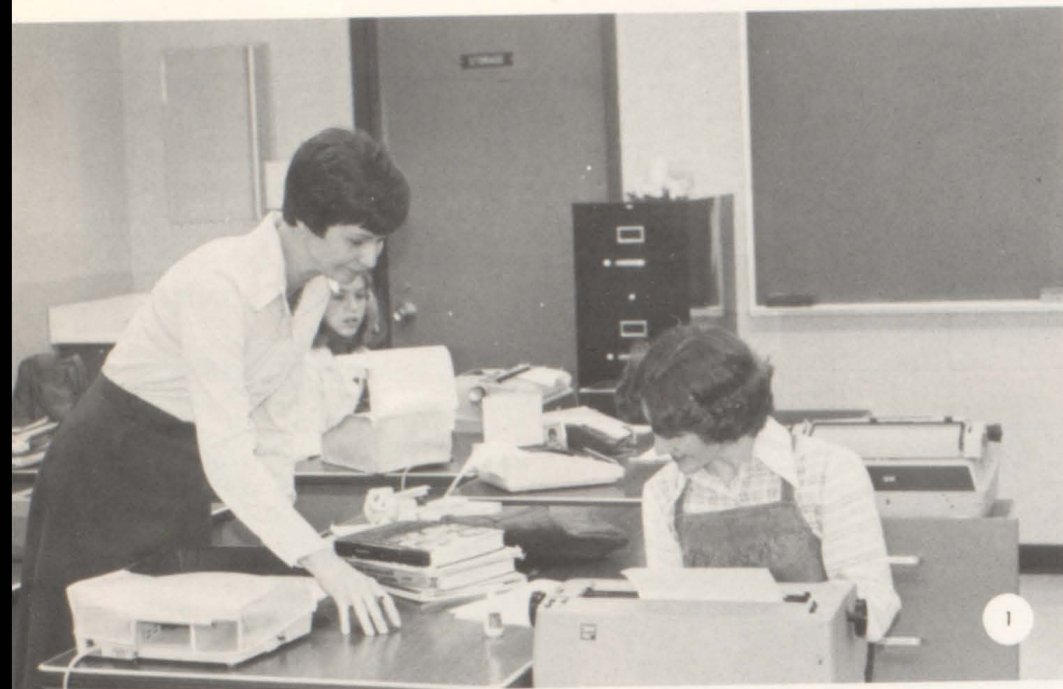

Social Science comes alive at Wawasee.

The Social Science department's main topic was man. Juniors studied results of man's actions through U.S. History. Seniors studied government and political behaviors. Psychology made the student aware of his individual self, and sociology focused on social organizations. Student participation also helped to make Social Science a period to look forward to.

1. Terry Iden, B.S., M.A. B.S.U., was in a rush to erase something he wrote. 2. Vernon Zurcher, B.S. Huntington College, M.A. B.S.U., anxiously awaited an answer from Judy Walls, while Tony Siri reassured him. Richard Owen however, apparently did not like the question. 3. Ron Corson, B.A. Manchester College, M.A. B.S.U., explained those impossible tax forms. 4. David Morris, B.S. Grace College, pointed out a few things to Arto Nummila, an exchange student from Finland.

Business Ed. provides valuable information for future use.

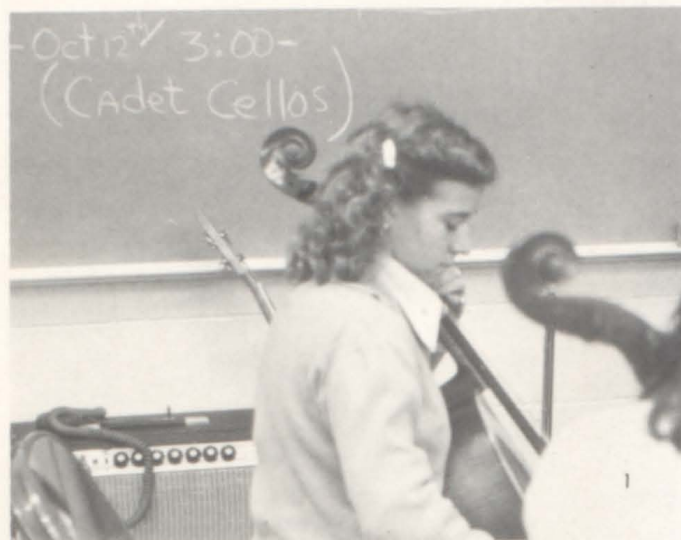

1. Pat Huber, B.S., M.S. I.U., did not give Natalie McGlynn a chance to do her nails. 2. Eldon Ummel, B.S. Manchester College, M.S. B.S.U., read the funnies to his Business class. 3. Gary Baker, B.S. B.S.U., tried to fix another typewriter with the aid of Lee Ann Carty. 4. Jerry Minton, B.S., M.A. B.S.U., learned his bridge had collapsed.

Every type of course from Shorthand to Sales Merchandising could be found in our Business Department. Personal Financial Management gave a practical approach to the basics of business and consumer economics. Accounting showed that it was possible to keep financial expenditures intact, while Office Machines taught students how to use many devices to ease their work load. Typing class became almost mandatory to all students entering college or the business world, and General Business was still a course filled by many freshmen.

1. Cindy Gilbert busily typed away. 2. Linda Hoy, B.S. Manchester College, M.A. B.S.U., looked on as her class took a test. 3. Don Storey, B.S. Manchester College, M.A. St. Francis College, pointed out a few things to Kathy Adams. 4. Sam Norman showed his usual interest. 5. Ryan Owen and Mark Parrish fought over a yardstick while Betsy Runge and Tim Schrock tried to pay attention.

The orchestra was very busy this year. In addition to presenting four major concerts, they also gave a separate orchestra concert with Goshen and Bethany Christian High Schools as guests. The top string players from concert orchestra joined together, under the direction of Ganette Smith, to form the first Chamber Strings. The orchestra worked hard and the results were music to their ears.

1. Asleep at the cello was Robyn Heath. 2. Marc Barnett just fiddled around. 3. Ganette Smith, B.S., I.S.U., M.A. B.S.U., conducted the class. 4. Steve Keim relaxed and got comfortable.

1. Jean Nyikos enjoyed the period. 2. These students comprised this year's orchestra. 3. Mike Wakeland got a kick out of playing while Lisa Mohler remained intense.

This year went exceptionally well for W.H.S. band students. At the Mermaid Festival, the band played a medley of recent movie themes, and received third place. For Homecoming the band went all out in a salute to the Wonderful World of Disney, which included a giant Mickey Mouse face formed by band members, and a dazzling glowing star routine performed in the dark. Spirits were high as this year's candy sales brought in $3,600, more than double any previous year's total. All that selling finally paid off as 150 new band uniforms were finally received. After ten years of work, the uniforms looked mighty fine.

1. Flag girls Charlotte Tatman, Tonda Davis, and Chris Packer, posed for the camera. 2. Doug Hougey and Belinda Boyer anxiously awaited their cues. 3. Everybody was busy blowing their horns. 4. The Concert Band was composed of the best musicians.

and loud!*

1. W.H.S. Band was caught during a night out. 2. David Blackwell, B.M.E., M.S., I.U., managed to keep the beat moving. 3. Were you sure you knew how to play that, Pat? 4. The Cadet Band looked very promising.

Students learn the art of homemaking.

1. Mrs. Bales smiled for the camera.
2. D. Darr led the class in discussion.
3. Mrs. Baumgartner helped out G. Swartz and J. Haab by stirring their mix.

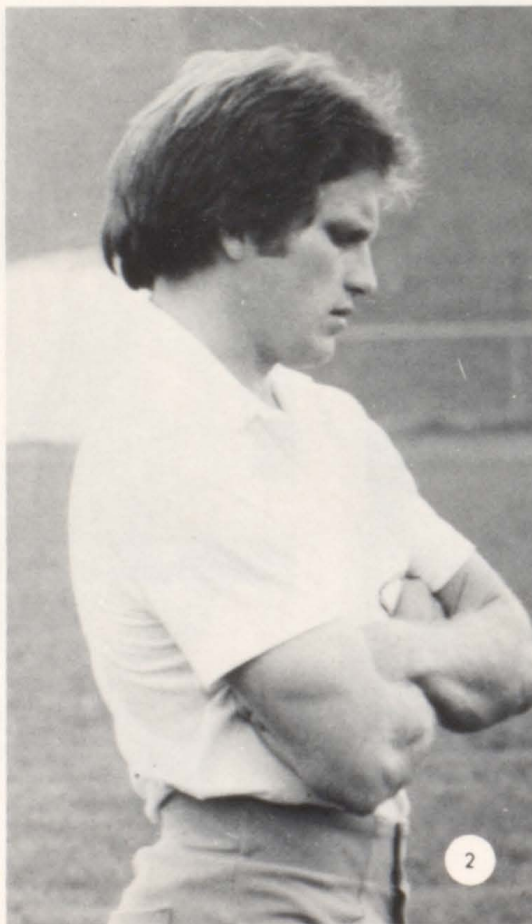

Many students enjoyed the heavenly aromas that drifted through the halls during various Home Economics classes. Some students had even more enjoyment while they sampled the food that the instructors, Mrs. Bales, B.S., Purdue, M.S., Indiana University; Mrs. Baumgartner, B.S., M.S., Ball State, helped to prepare. Cooking was not the only skill taught in this department. Many students were instructed in new sewing techniques and even learned about child care.

1. Mrs. Bales and Mrs. Baumgartner looked for the latest fashions. 2. D. Moore, L. Siebert, and D. Wagoner made some holiday cookies. 3. Mrs. Baumgartner instructed her class. 4. Connie Thompson listened attentively.

Students improve their skills in athletics.

Many departments had new personnel this year and the physical education department was no exception. They had two new staff members: Mr. Caldwell, B.A., Eureka; Mr. Smith, B.P.E., Purdue. Along with these, the other members were Mrs. Carpenter, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Mrs. Peterson, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Mr. Storey, B.S., Manchester, M.A., St. Francis; Mr. Lambert, A.B.T., High Point, M.S. Indiana University-Ft. Wayne. With all these teachers working together, they offered gym students everything from gymnastics to football.

1. Mr. Lambert called it safe! 2. Mr. Smith acted as both teacher and coach. 3. Mrs. Carpenter gave the photographer a grin.

1. Nobody sneaked up on Mrs. Peterson. 2. It looked like S. Kuhn's slam dunk could use a little practice. 3. Gym class was more than this student could handle. 4. Mr. Caldwell discussed the importance of planning out your future.

Like many other departments, the Art Department saw a new face at the front of the class. Mr. Johnson, B.A.E., Herron School of Art, I.U., M.A.E., Ball State, was new this year, but had the experience of Mrs. Warner, B.F.A., Syracuse University, M.S., St. Francis, and Mrs. Glon, the art aide, behind him all the way. The art curriculum included classes such as crafts, drawing, and painting. Many students' work was put on display in show cases, and all the art students took part in the Spring Art Festival.

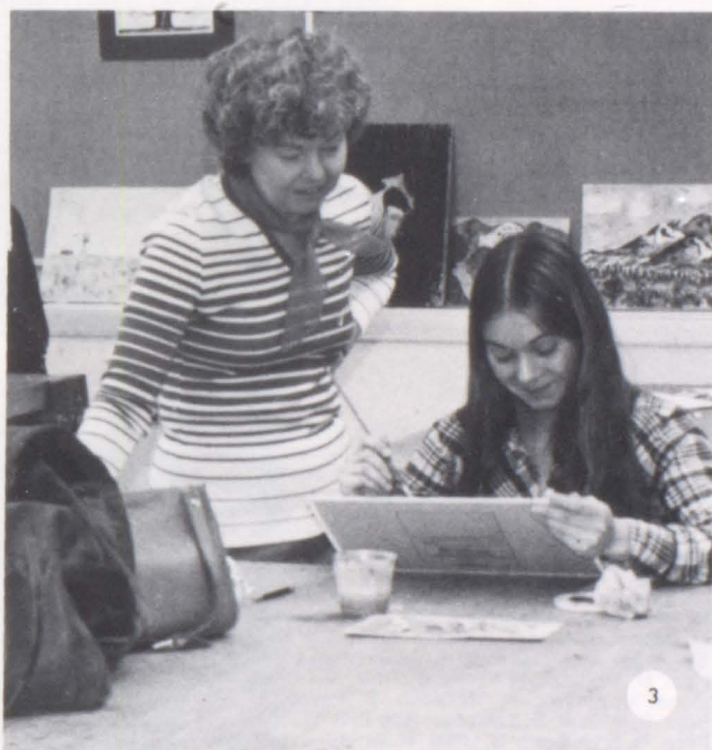

1. The Art Department Staff was Mrs. Glon, Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Warner. 2. J. Knudsen spent her senior year in art constructing a portfolio for future use. 3. Mr. Johnson helped D. Walker with the final touches. 4. Mrs. Warner helped R. Heath and D. Bause find pictures.

Art is a world for the creative.

1. Mr. Johnson drew R. Cripe's portrait while Mrs. Glon and T. Reichard observed. 2. K. Price didn't miss a detail during her model's pose. 3. Mrs. Warner gave E. Jernigan some last minute advice.

The choirs blend to perfection.

The Music Department had two new additions to the staff this year. The choirs were shared by two directors Mr. Bailey, B.S., Ball State, M.S., St. Francis; Mr. Blackwell, M.S., B.M.E., Indiana University. With the help of these two directors, the three choirs performed successfully at four different concerts. The choirs participated in a new Winter concert this year. They also had their usual Christmas Concert, Corporation Festival, and the Spring Pops Concert. As in previous years, many Wawasee choir students took their talents to contest and placed high in all events.

1. Mr. Bailey really enjoyed directing this song.
2. Treble Choir, Row 1: J. Glon, T. Ogden, B. Appenzeller, D. Dieterly, H. Sipress, B. Hunter, D. Neibert. Row 2: D. Taylor, D. Sherman, C. Chidister, D. Carey, L. Kaufman, R. Easley, D. Bartow, D. Bond; Row 3: S. Freeman, T. Adams, D. Rosenberry, T. Beer, S. Schmuck, L. Carty, M. Wakeland, S. Francis; Row 4: Mr. D. Blackwell — Director, B. Boyer, S. Wright, S. Boggs, T. Morehouse, L. Walker, J. White, T. Goodspeed, M. Packer, P. Minear. 3. Cadet Choir, Row 1: L. Sieglinger, L. Richardson, K. Rockenbaugh, L. Hale, M. Medlock, R. Flynn, D. Frew, K. Coverstone, M. Meyers, R. McGinnis, S. Payne, A. Beer, B. Walker, D. Schieber; Row 2: S. Wall, T. Penn, D. Engelberth, S. Miller, M. Whitte, D. Culbertson, M. Greenwood, B. Kyle, D. Richardson, N. Norman, K. Hamman, S. Dain, D. Green, M. Sherman; Row 3: K. Hoover, T. McClain, B. Conley, T. Barley, K. Kelley, S. Elliot, J. Steele, S. Smith, A. Coverstone, S. Schmucker, J. Brown, T. Bailey, B. Wuthrich, L. Staley, T. Eby.

1. Gary Vance, Sandy Koeningshof, and Rusty Morrison blended their voices. 2. Concert Choir, Row 1: C. Schieber, B. Stults, B. Carr, C. Taylor, T. Niles, T. Stutzman, M. Minnick, T. Brunner, J. Garza, J. Lawson, J. White, B. Dahl; Row 2: L. James, C. Walker, K. Ferverda, J. Wall, S. Karbach, R. Hively, R. Hamman, T. Tinkey, J. Ganz, D. Curry, L. Brown, J. Ferverda, B. Spry, L. Engelberth; Row 3: S. Miller, J. Drumm, L. Parrish, N. Dipert, R. Busch, K. Badskey, S. Green, T. Bause, R. Morrison, T. Bushong, C. McFarland, G. Vance, J. Kampf, J. Sliger, M. Zurcher, M. Tom, L. Glassley, K. Lambert; Row 4: S. Koenigshof, J. Easter, J. Hammel, L. Solina, M. Stover, L. Pryor, S. Ousley, M. Coy, R. Hickman, K. Lawson, S. Jones, S. Peach, B. Wise, C. Darr, C. Clevenger, B. Simmons, A. Long, T. Shanahan, L. Harris. 3. Melanie Zurcher hit a note that wasn't pleasing to Curt Clevenger's ear. 4. Mr. Bailey directed the choir during warm ups.

Vocational Ed. is on the move!

1. Marilyn Holcomb was absorbed in her letter. 2. Tom Robinson pointed out a few things to Jeff Spitler. 3. Doug Mock cleaned his engine. 4. Gene Duesler, Todd Hardy, and Mark Wolfe could not believe what they saw. 5. Sharon Meek kept busy in Office Machines.

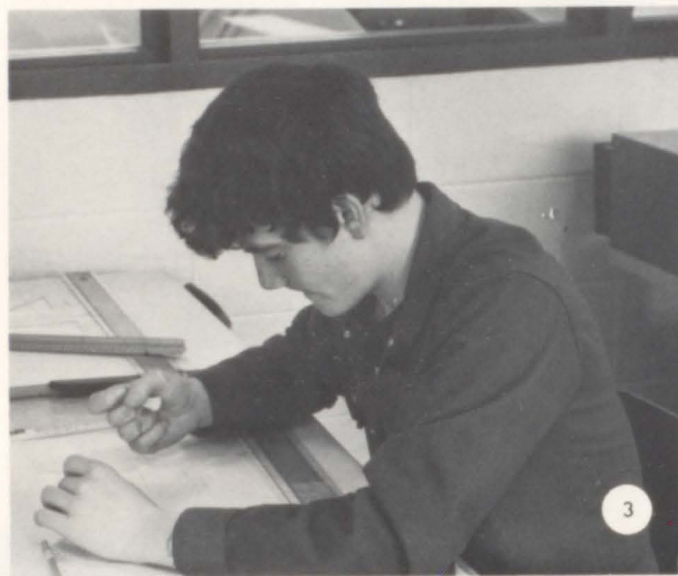

Vocational Ed kept up with the working world by offering various fields of study combining on the spot action with classroom study. Such courses included Building Trades, Auto Mechanics, Agriculture, Office Lab, Sales and Merchandising, and Cosmetology. After leaving these classes, a sense of skill and accomplishment could be felt.

1. The people that kept things moving were Row 1: Dana Arthur; Debbie Clingaman; John Glon, 5 years work experience; Row 2: Pat Huber, B.S. I.S.U., M.S., I.U.; Janet Bales, B.S., Purdue; Randy Warren, B.S., M.S. Purdue; Lee Troyer, 21 years work experience; Row 3: Richard Wysong, B.S., M.S. I.S.U.; and Tom Robinson, 23 years work experience. Not pictured were Jan Baumgartner, B.S., M.S. B.S.U.; and Gene Duesler, I.E.D. 2. Steve Kortember hammered another nail. 3. Todd Hardy was caught playing around. 4. Another busy day took place in Office lab.

1. Industrial Education staff: Mr. Cesco, Mr. Matz, Mr. Alford, Mr. Vitaniemi.
2. C. Bowman showed off the new medical facilities.
3. R. Pollock looked a little worried about his project. 4. J. Barrett didn't think lectures were too bad.

Industrial Ed. students work for perfection.

The Industrial Education Department was like a mystery to many students because of its location and the privacy of the classrooms. Many students never got the chance to see the industrial wing working hard at perfecting the craftsmen and developing outstanding products while they did so. The leaders of this department were Mr. Alford, B.S., M.S., Ball State; Mr. Cesco, B.A., M.A., Ball State; Mr. Matz, B.S., Indiana State; Mr. Vitaniemi, B.S., Indiana State, M.A.E., Ball State.

1. J. Conley worked hard on his architecture assignment. 2. J. Hostetler helped B. Guy varnish his cabinet. 3. R. Wagner carefully drew an angle.

1. Bill Hayes and Jeff Poston relaxed during their free time. 2. John Hostetler rested a moment during class. 3. Sonya Hoover stood tall to be measured for graduation.

Grab your Quad-Pak and Crop!

1. The Christmas spirit brought out the best in Lynne, Jackie, Marti, and Jeri. 2. There was one less page for Jackie to worry about. 3. Yearbook staff members, Row 1: J. Denney, L. Gerstner, J. Meditch, L. Kroh, L. Pryor, C. Phillabaum, L. Glassley, Mrs. Harkleroad, sponsor; Row 2: C. Cole, R. Heath, C. Harris, T. Coquillard, M. DeWitt, J. Mangas, D. Hoover, T. Rinker, L. Brouwer, G. Carpenter.

"Don't forget the deadline. Nobody leaves the room until he has checked the contacts." These were common words spoken by Mrs. Harkleroad the yearbook sponsor. Yearbook members worked hard to produce a yearbook for the students of Wawasee. The yearbook staff put together a combination of hard work, worry, fun, and relaxation to meet the deadlines, and send the book off to the printers on time.

Orchestra entertains while advisors give advice.

Coffing; Row 3: Mr. R. Kitson, Mr. Storey, T. Bushong.

The advisors council was a group of teachers and students working together for the benefit of the entire student body. The students were selected by classmates to represent their individual classes. Chamber Orchestra was made up of several orchestra and band members.

Directed by Mrs. Smith this group met on Thursday after school to perfect their skills.

Wawasee students strive for N.H.S.

To be a member of the National Honor Society a junior must have met a grade average of 3.5 and seniors a 3.25. However, N.H.S. members found time to do other things besides study. The N.H.S. sponsored the annual penny pitch to help raise money for unfortunate families of the community. After raising the money, they purchased and delivered groceries for these families at Christmas time.

1. Senior N.H.S. members, Row 1: V. Kreider, C. Kammerer, K. Price, M. Baumle; Row 2: K. Kirkpatrick, S. Arnold, S. Silveus, K. Amos, L. Sliger, L. Haney; Row 3: M. Johnston, K. Bice, J. Miller, A. Steffen, C. Phillabaum. 3. Jeri Meditch enjoyed studying.

Wawasee students are involved in pride.

The Pride Committee this year was a group of girls and boys chosen by their classes to represent them. Their activities included dance planning, writing letters to honor roll students, and making student swaps with other schools, but their biggest job this year was Homecoming. This year the Freshmen members were the ones chosen to take care of the events bulletin board in front of the school.

Audio Visual and Student Service help out.

Two new additions were added to the Wawasee organizations. They were the Student Service group and the Audio Visual Club. Student Service members were the students who helped in the guidance and attendance offices each day during their free periods. This help was greatly appreciated by office personnel. Audio Visual was a new club started this year by Mr. Jones for students interested in working with this type of equipment. Club members met during home-room on Fridays for discussion. This was an educational addition enjoyed by many.

1. Audio Visual members, Row 1: J. Davies, C. Swihart, K. Allen, L. Boyer, G. Crafton; Row 2: Mr. Jones, P. Thornhill, W. Heffner, J. Gans, J. Kampf, D. Hougey, D. Frew. 2. Drama Club produced two plays this year. The first play was a religious production entitled Godspell. The Drama Club later put on their spring musical. This year's musical was Oklahoma. Both plays were directed by Mr. Zerkel.

F.F.A. plants it again!

As the title implied, F.F.A. was set up to help prepare students for a career in farming. F.F.A. members attended conventions and soil judging contests through the year. F.F.A. club members also worked together to produce a winning club display for homecoming. F.F.A. members worked on a point system all year and after totaling so many points were awarded their jackets.

1. F.F.A. Club members, Row 1: J. Wall, D. Wuthrich, R. Aaron, A. Coy, T. Bushong, R. Cusick; Row 2: A. Mock, L. Hammel, G. Tyler, K. Hummel, D. Culler, T. Bowling, R. Pollock, S. Beer, M. Teeple. 2. F.F.A. members worked hard on this display for homecoming.

Math Club sums it up together.

Math Club was still a relatively new club so it was still small in numbers. Math Club was started because students of Wawasee expressed an interest in this type of an organization. Mr. Bowman and Mr. Neff were only too happy to sponsor the group. Math Club members met once a month after school to participate in the group activities. Math Club was small but still active.

1. Math Club members, Row 1: J. Ochlschlaegel, G. Gerencser, B. Harding, D. Frew, K. Kirkpartick, M. Johnston, L. Davenport; Row 2: A. Lehman, M. Peterson, Mr. Bowman, sponsor, M. Vanderveer, Mr. Neff, sponsor. 2. Even Math Club sponsors could smile once in awhile.

Skiers ski . . . pilots fly.

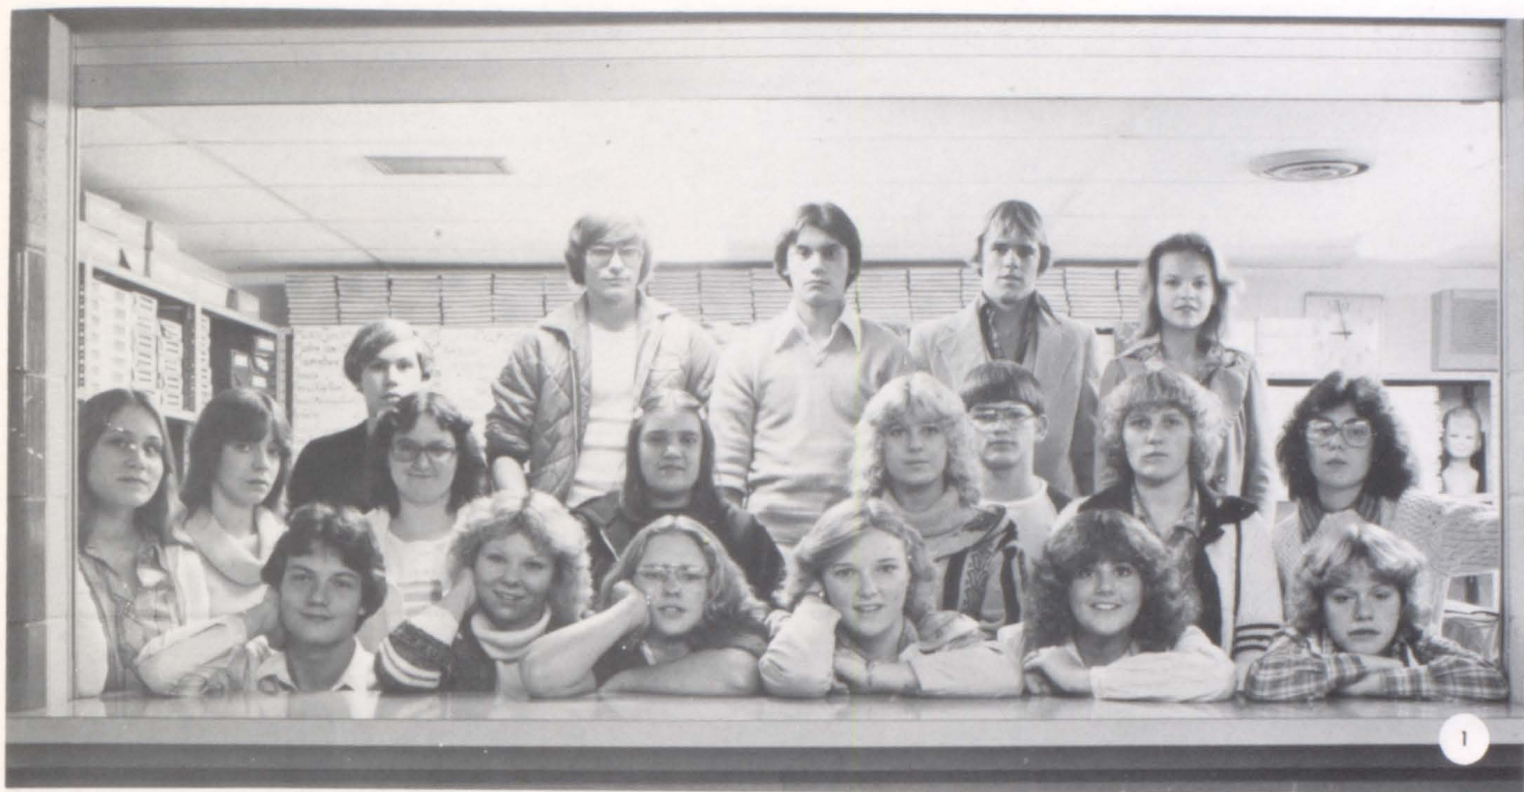

If the weather wasn't right for anything else, it was right for the ski club. The Wawasee Ski Club has grown in numbers during the last few years. Members of the club enjoyed many trips to Swiss Valley and other good skiing places.

Come fly with me was a favorite phrase for Pilot Club members. The club was small but still active. Pilots Club members met during homeroom to discuss flights and requirements.

1. Ski Club members, Row 1: R. Morrison, M. Johnston, B. Dahl, P. Gerrity, S. Schacht, S. Peach, T. Haines; Row 2: C. Griffith, L. Henderson, C. Niles, C. Meir, S. Harting, M. Baumle, T. Deca provides a future in business.

The Deca Club, sponsored by Mr. Minton had several rewarding activities this year. Several DECA members attended a contest at Scottsdale Mall this year and returned with more awards to add to the DECA collection. DECA students were also in charge of running the Wawa-see Bookstore. Running the Bookstore taught club members how to deal with the public and a little more about the profit end of business. The main reason for DECA was to build a background for students interested in Business.

1. Deca Club members, Row 1: M. Fry, G. Pavel, C. Singrey, J. Denney, J. Mangas; Row 2: L. Smith, N. Pippenger, K. Coy, V. Zimmerman, M. DeWitt, S. Wise, J. Hoover, B. Runge; Row 3: J. Photography Club captures life.

Photography club consisted of fourteen members and met during home-room on Fridays. The photography club entered members in the Scholastic photography contest, giving students a chance to show off their skills.

1. Photography Club members, Row 1: P. Ludwig, S. Arnold, G. Carpenter, G. Henderson; Row 2: Mr. Robbins, sponsor, K. Hing, J. Dean, K. Allen, A. Bales; Row 3: L. Jones, C. Beardslee, T. Bause. 2. I wonder what Mr. Robbins saw? Was this a new romance?

While the words flow, the presses roll.

Once again Wawasee students enjoyed the outcome of the efforts put out by the newspaper staff. The paper contained many fine articles and pictures of interest to the students. The staff worked hard to have the paper sent to the printers and back to the students in record time. Speech club members were also busy preparing for speech tournaments. Wawasee hosted several fine tourneys throughout the year. Speech club members produced many fine pieces of work.

1. Newspaper Staff, Row 1: L. Perry, G. Crafton, M. Stiffler; Row 2: J. Jorczak, S. Wilson, C. Clever, L. James, C. Eastlund; Row 3: M. Ray, D. Walker, K. Kirkpatrick, S. Art Club is creative: again.

The pumpkin carve, held by the art club, gave students a chance to show a flair of creativity. The annual art show also brought out the talent in the art club. Students worked hard to produce exhibits for the show. Talent of various types was seen through the art club.

Girls Sport Club members provide support.

Girls Sports Club members were the girls seen working during athletic events. The girls worked concessions, timed events at swim meets, and passed out athletic programs at football and basketball games. These were just a few of the duties performed by these club members. The girls were also there to lend moral support to the athletes of Wawasee.

1. GSC members, Row 1: J. Dean, C. Cleaver, L. Walker, P. Gerrity, L. Kaufman, C. Taylor, L. Siebert; Row 2: J. Scarbeary, M. Ruch, K. Charlton, D. Dieterly, B. Carr, L. Hostetler, C. Intramurals was designed to give boys not involved in sports a chance to work out and stay in shape. Boys who participated were divided into teams, therefore creating competition and teaching sportsmanship.

1. Rob Smith looked for a fast break. 2. Grab that basketball. 3. It was two points for the phantom shooter. 4. Intramurals was hard work.

One, two, three . . . kick!

It was the Pom Pon girls who were in charge of entertainment during a few of the home basketball games. Directed by Mrs. Blackwell, the girls also performed at all of the home football games as an added attraction to the Band. Talent from the girls and the pep band was combined to form routines to such hits as "Disco Inferno", and "Rocky." In their bright green and gold uniforms, the girls were a real hit.

Pom Pon members, 1. Row 1: J. Schults, M. Miller, B. Tobias, P. Gerrity, J. Ferverda, D. Elkins, B. Stults, K. Hoover; Row 2: T. Morehouse, C. Phillabaum, M. Gans, L. Walker. 2. SMILE, you three! 3. It looked like total concentration was needed to do it right.

Let's get rowdie with the Pep Club!

There was a new addition to both the organizations and the Wawasee home games this year. In their bright gold shirts and painters' pants or jeans the Pep Club created a lot of spirit for the Warriors. The pep club made it their personal goal to get both the team members and the entire fan section fired up before each game was over. To get things rolling, the Pep Club held a slumber party to allow the girls to get to know one another. Later to raise money they held a slave day and a disco dance. Pep Club was a great addition to the Warrior games.

The Wawasee pep band was a great asset at the Warrior basketball games. The pep band played many pep tunes and other selections to keep the Warriors and their fans fired up. The jazz band was also involved in entertaining the student body. Directed by Mr. Blackwell, the jazz band performed for the community as well as many other organizations. The jazz band also attended contest, where they did very well.

1. Pep Band members, Row 1: J. Ochlschlaegel, S. Green, D. Bone; Row 2: B. Boyer, D. Hougey, R. Hamman; Row 3: J. White, J. Wall, J. Wall, C. Chidister, D. Engelberth, S. Wall, J. Chore-Time Equipment of Milford has grown from its early basement beginnings in 1952 to a six-plant, multi-million dollar international business.

The main plant is located in Milford and manufactures the original Flex-Auger, extendible waterers and floor feeders for the poultry industry. Across the road is the Air Systems Division, which manufactures ventilation systems for the poultry and livestock industries.

Chore-Time's cage manufacturing facility is located in Decatur, Alabama, and is recognized as a leader in cage design and quality manufacturing. To the east at Athens, Georgia, is a plant which manufactures cage feeders, egg collection systems and related cage components. Across the sea in Maidegem, Belgium, are two more plants that manufacture equipment similar to that produced by the Milford plant with the additional capabilities of producing equipment for the swine industry.

Chore-Time is proud of its association with the Milford area community and would like to thank the many within the community for having helped make the Chore-Time story a successful one.
