Come Sail Away!

On September 2, 1981, the students of Wawasee High School boarded a symbolic boat with a passenger load of over 900; this boat prepared to take us on a voyage that would last for the entire year.

During the voyage, we were fortunate to have strong winds generated by the energy of the student body and careful guidance provided by the faculty. Whether we were rushing to class, racing to the cafeteria, or cheering our teams to victory, we were always active and very supportive of each other, trying to make this voyage a success. Though we sometimes had rough waters and weak winds, we always managed to retain our course, making the 1981-82 school year a very memorable one.

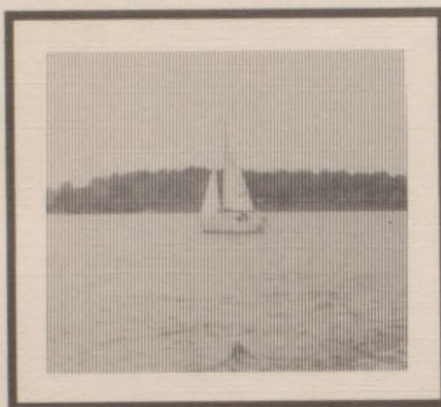

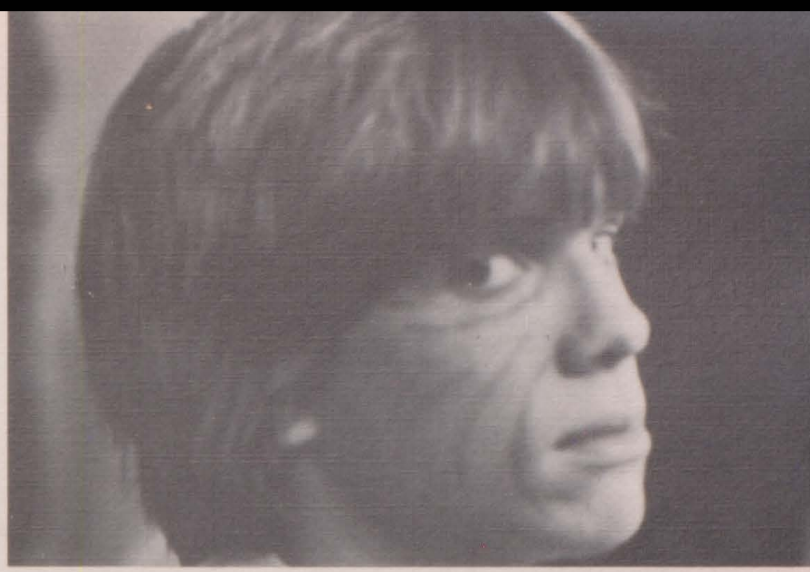

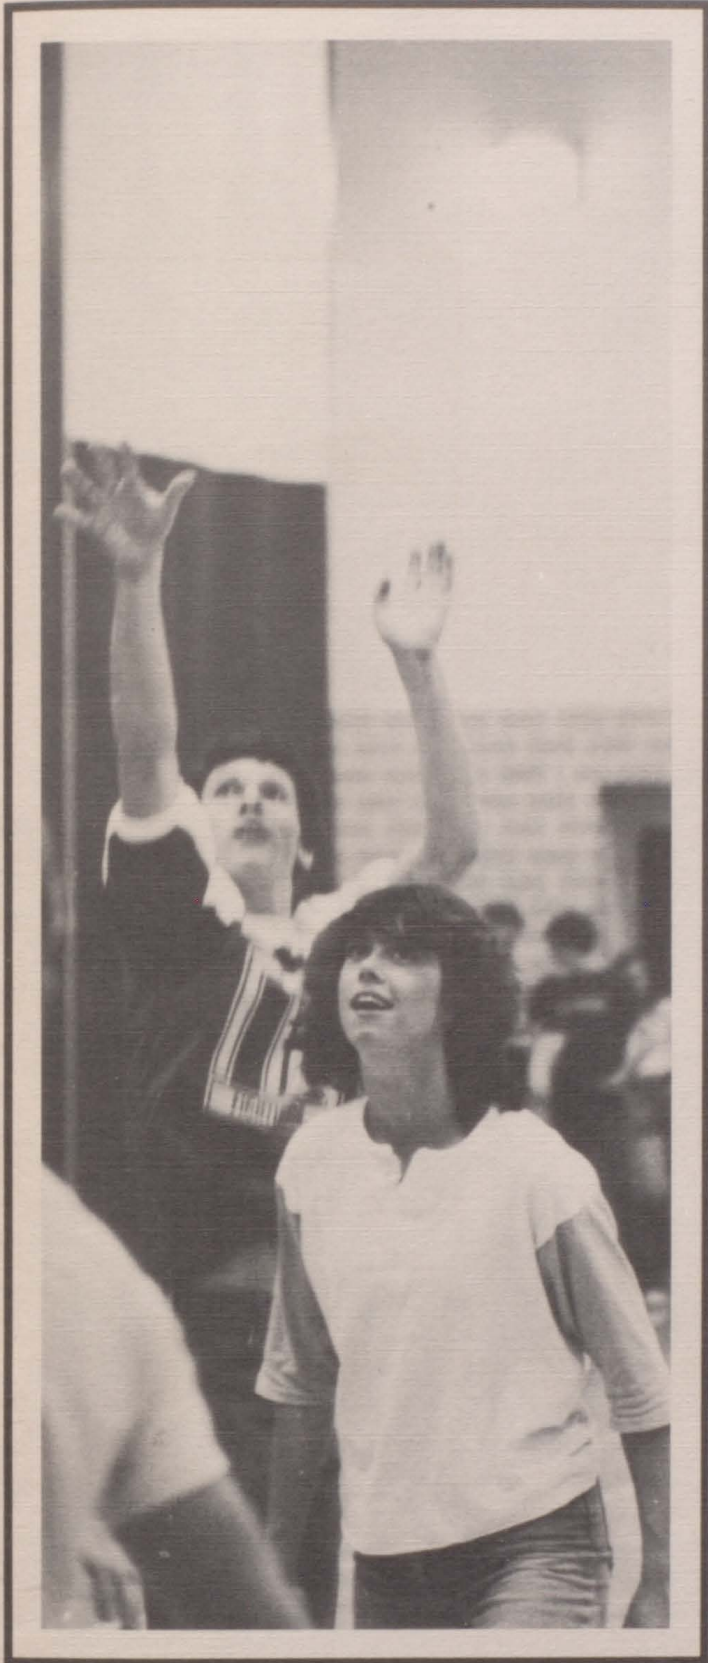

For me,
my craft is sailing on.
Through mists today,
clear seas anon.

Whate'er the final harbor be,
'tis good to sail upon the sea.

John Kendrick Bangs

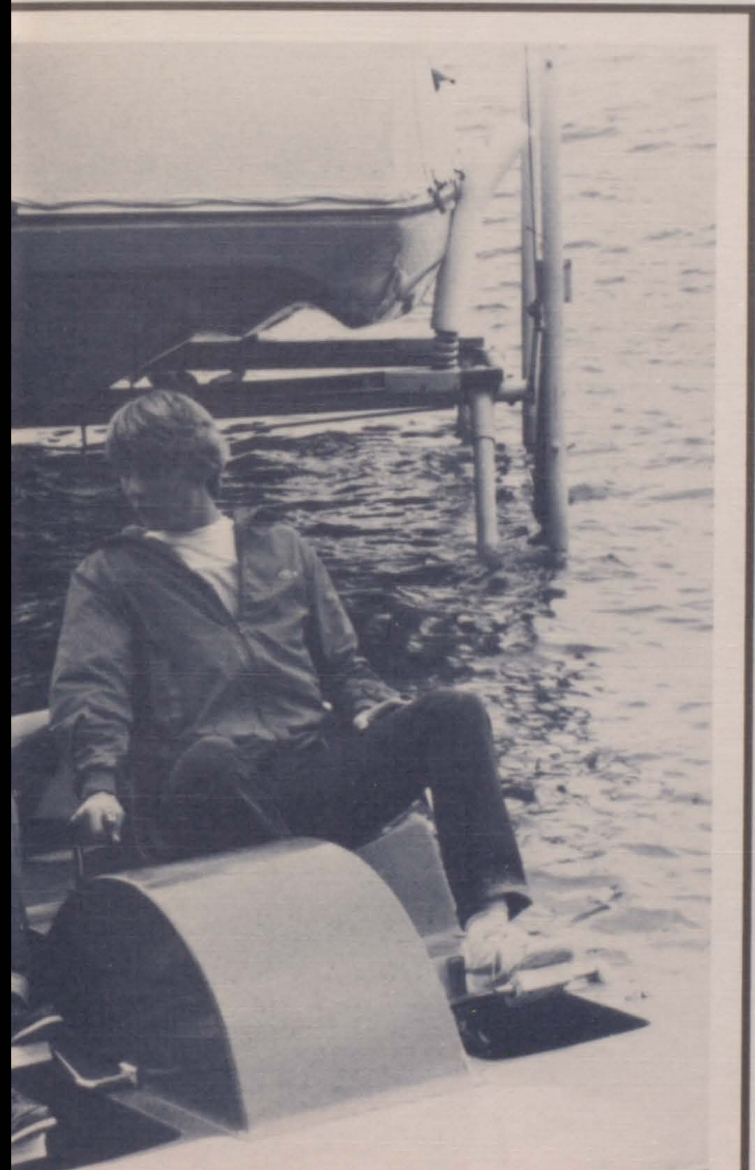

It's a nice summer day.
The wind's just right.
The water is calm,
And the sun's shining bright.

We're sailing along
Together as one.
It's a feeling of freedom,
Relaxation and fun.

It's a feeling of adventure.
It's a feeling that is new.
It's simply the joy
Of sailing with you.

Candidates set sail for Homecoming.

This year eight seniors were honored during the week of September 14 as the 1981 Homecoming candidates. Each was required to participate in photo sessions from the local newspaper to the yearbook pictures. These candidates were nominated by their class at the end of their junior year and then were voted on by the entire student body for the King and Queen during Homecoming Week. After each candidate was introduced at the half time of the football game, the winners were announced. Mark DeWitt and Tonda Yeager captured the top honors as the 1981 Homecoming King and Queen with Jeff Long and Stacy Kline as runners-up.

Opposite page: 1 The queen candidates were Tonda Yeager, Kathy Butt, Stacy Kline, and Lori Berger. 2 Lori Berger and Brian Brannock took it easy on the sailboat. 3 Tonda Yeager and Jeff Long waited patiently on the bow of the boat. This page: 1 Kathy Butt and Kent Butcher were enthusiastic about being on a sailboat. 2 Stacy Kline and Mark DeWitt were ready to put up the sail! 3 The king candidates were Brian Brannock, Mark DeWitt, Kent Butcher and Jeff Long.

Warriors win "Under the Big Top."

Homecoming, once again, was one of the major events of the 1981-82 school year. "Under the Big Top" was the theme chosen by the Pride Committee. Many activities during the week added to the excitement. Judging for the winner of the King and Queen's Trophy was based upon attendance at school throughout the week, decoration of windows, a skit, and the banner contest. The change in the activities allowed more students to become involved and more clubs to participate. Art Club won the top club banner award while DECA came in second. Most original banner went to the Senior class and Newspaper received the most appropriate to theme award. The Junior class captured the King and Queen's Trophy by winning the class banner, best windows, best skit, and tying in the attendance contest with the Seniors. Homecoming evening was highlighted by the coronation of Mark DeWitt and Tonda Yeager as King and Queen and a football win over Northridge.

1 The Juniors displayed their winning banner. 2 Tonda Yeager and Mark DeWitt were crowned the 1981 Homecoming Queen and King. 3 The Warrior team was set for a victory. Opposite page: 1 The seniors walked away with the most original banner. 2 Sophomores climbed to a finish in their skit. 3 The Homecoming clown cheered on each class. 4 The sophomores worked hard to perfect their banner.

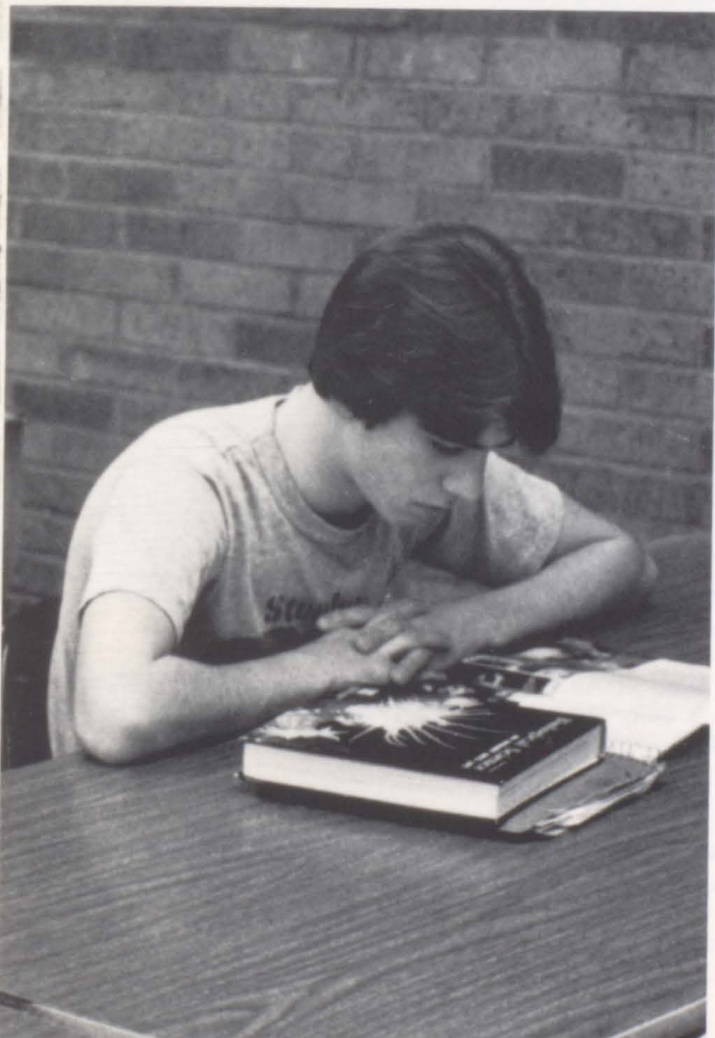

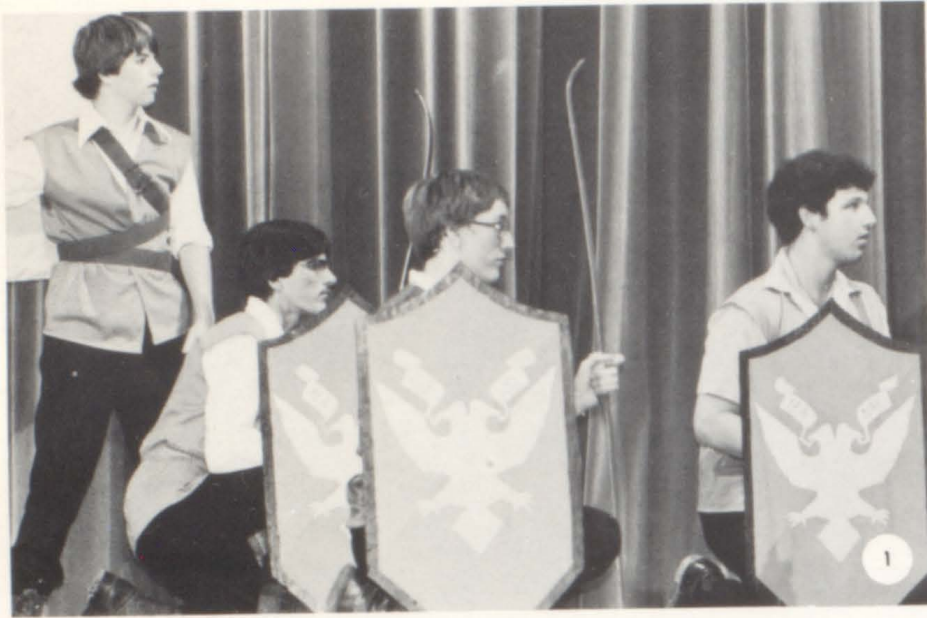

Two together!
 Winds blow south,
 Or winds blow north.
 Day come white,
 Or night come black,
 Home,
 Or rivers and mountains from
 home,
 Singing all time,
 Minding no time
 While we two keep together.

Walt Whitman

1. The soldiers of Grand Fenwick (Rick Mangona, Scott Badskey, Peter McFarland, and Rod Vanlaningham) invaded New York. 2. Professor Kokintz (Don Frew) explained the power of the Q bomb. 3. Tully Bascom (Mike Shock) and Gloriana the XII (Darci Gilbert) discussed the Future of Grand Fenwick while the Flagbearers (Tracy Stump and Melissa Coldren) waited patiently.

The Drama Club's efforts pay off.

The drama department produced two very good plays during the year of 1981-82. The fall play was The Mouse That Roared, and in the spring was the musical Brigadoon. Both of the plays were a great success and provided good entertainment for a lot of people. Brigadoon was complimented by the background music of the orchestra, directed by David Blackwell. Darci Gilbert, Mike Shock and Don Frew all held lead roles in both productions.

1. The entire town of Brigadoon was present for Jean's (Sarah Dain) and Charlie's (Mike Shock) wedding. 2. Meg (Sheli Miller) talked to Fiona (Darci Gilbert) about getting married. 3. Archie (Mike Brian) discussed the wedding with Fiona (Darci Gilbert) and Andrew (Scott Parker). 4. Meg (Sheli Miller) and Fiona (Darci Gilbert) introduced themselves to Jeff (Erik Bartman) and Tommy (Don Frew).

WHS has a variety of entertainment in Convos.

1. The speaker on natural gas got enthused while he showed us a demonstration. 2. The sophomores were bombarded with confetti during the sectional pep-session. 3. During National Education Week, Amy Clouse enjoyed her free time by playing volleyball. 4. The cheerleaders showed their talents at singing. Opposite page: 1. Lori Staley hated to say good-bye. 2. At the girls' regional basketball pep-session, Gen. Grant (Mr. Lambert) and Gen. Lee (Dr. Hull) duked it out while Uncle Sam Zurcher refereed. 3. Mr. Bailey conducted the orchestra in their Christmas carols. 4. At the sectional pep-session, Coach Wysong and Asst. Coach Baker were united in matrimony by Mr. Fawley. 5. Student body president Kent Butcher presented a plaque of appreciation to Mr. Smith

This year's convocations included a variety of things and people. We had a guest speaker who spoke and gave some interesting demonstrations on natural gas. The second of our convocations was something new this year. The students were given an hour of free time during National Education Week. Many activities were offered at this time such as the movie Legend of Jimmy Blue Eyes, card tournaments, swimming, games, volleyball, and basketball. We were also entertained by the combined choirs and orchestra with their special Christmas presentation. We had a farewell convocation for Mr. Smith during which each class presented a scroll of their class names in appreciation for all he had done. During the year we were also amused by the class skits from different pep-sessions.

New York is brought to the WHS prom.

1. Laura Hole, Jennifer Darr, Kim Spitler, Darci Gilbert, and Kristy Vance were servers at the prom. 2. The dance floor was crowded. 3. Ron Cripe and Margie Fisher enjoyed the prom excitement. 4. Gregg Henderson, Sarah Dain, Susie Schmucker, and Don Frew were entertained by the band. Opposite page: 1. Myra Ruch and Gregg Gant smiled for the camera. 2. Damien Carboneau and Bob Wolfe really got into the prom spirit. 3. Jeff Nicodemus seemed to enjoy his dance with Renee Shipley. 4. Alan Biltz, Renee Shipley, and Jeff Nicodemus discussed the evening's activities.

After putting in hours of hard work decorating the gym, both during and after school, the seniors brought the Plaza Hotel to WHS with their theme "New York, New York." The gym was decorated in a party atmosphere with balloons, streamers and stars on the walls. One wall was painted as a New York skyline. The entertainment was provided by "The Farris Brothers" helping to make the 1982 Senior Prom an unforgettable one.

Graduates discover new shores.

1. Lori Staley and Brian Boyer gave smiles of satisfaction over twelve successful years. 2. Annette Keim and Ken Paulus listened intently to the speech. 3. Jennifer Steele left with a feeling of accomplishment. 4. The Senior choir sang "Flying Free." 5. Dr. Hull presented Lori Kammerer with her diploma. 6. Dr. Hull presented Jeff Long with his diploma. Opposite page: 1. President Lori Staley delivered her farewell speech to her classmates. 2. Carol Walker and Dave Roberts ushered in the class of 1982. 3. Brian Brannock and Darla Brown left the gym with a good feeling. 4. A cap and gown gave Marshall Boyer the educated feeling. 5. Ronda Black and Kevin Marks held on tightly to their diplomas as they left the graduation exercises.

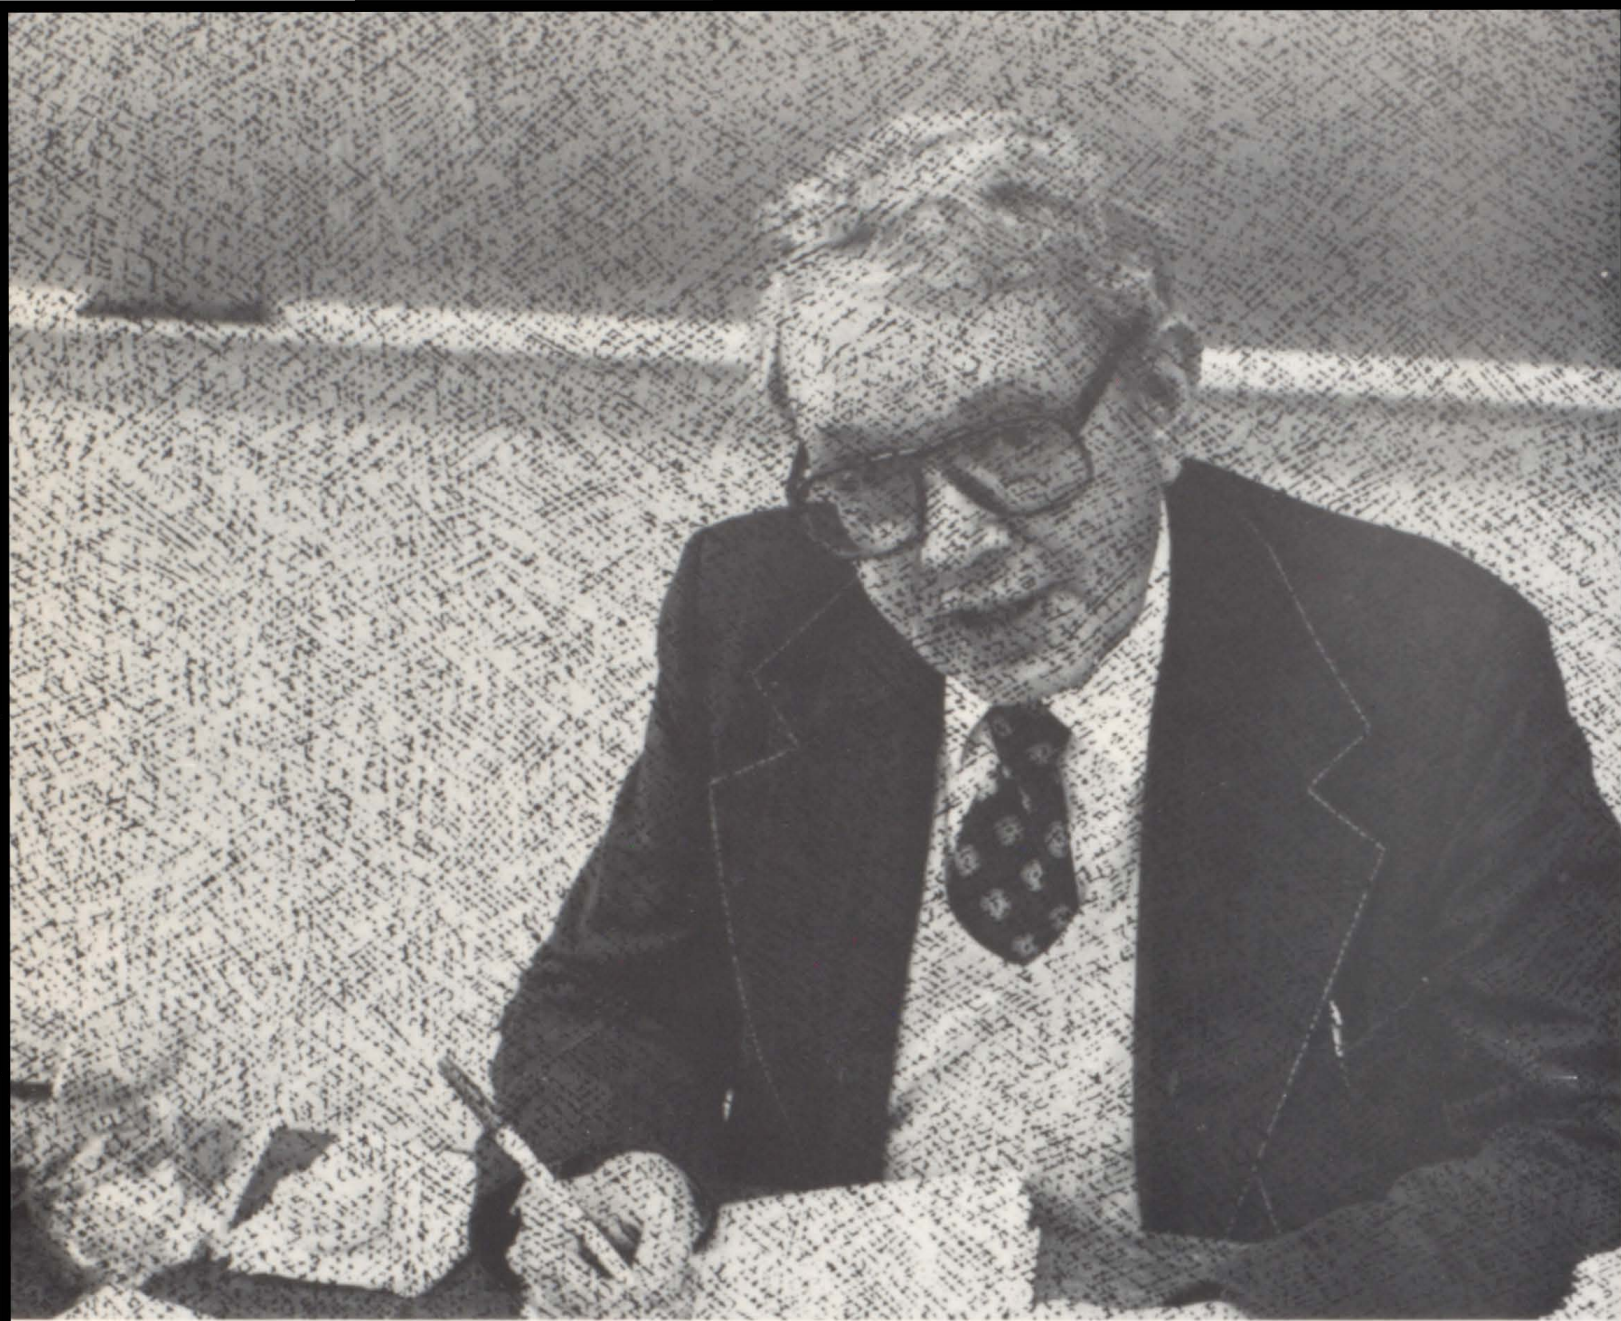

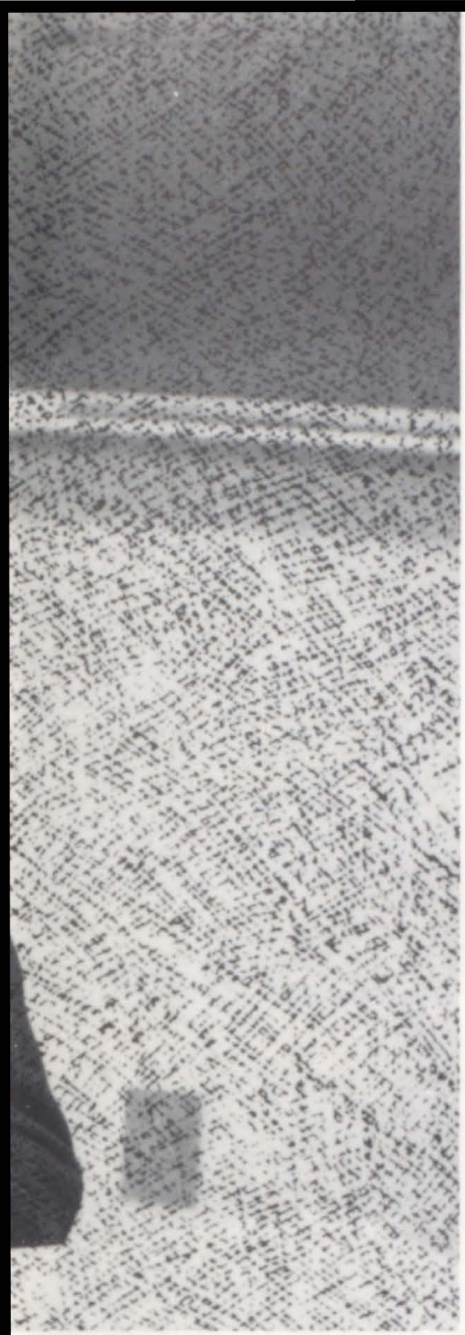

The seniors graduated on May 23, 1982. Their class colors were green and white, and the class flower was a red rose. The motto for the class of '82 was, "Though we have long left the shore, we have just begun to sail." The invocation was given by Rev. Henry McCray. Lori Staley, class president, gave a speech which reflected on the memories of her class. The senior choir, directed by Mr. Steve Bailey, sang "Flying Free." Rev. Harlan Steffen closed the commencement with the benediction. Norine Sorensen was valedictorian, and Susie Schmucker was salutatorian.

Computers, history, and science,
Oh how we wished we could do without.
Making HIT and honor roll were Everyone's hope. After

Seeing our achievements
And feeling relieved,
It's the summer we've waited for.
Let's Come Sail

Administration

The administration at Wawasee had a busy year in the 1981-82 school year. Of course, all their years were busy, but this was the year we lost Henry Smith and got Dr. Howard Hull on the staff as principal of Wawasee High School. During the interim Mr. Kesler provided expert leadership until Dr. Hull's arrival second semester.

1. Our administrators were Richard Wysong, B.S., M.S., Indiana State; Henry Smith, B.S., Indiana State, M.A., Ball State; Myron Dickerson, B.S., Ball State, M.S., St. Francis; Donn Kesler, B.S., Manchester, M.S., Indiana University. 2. Mr. Kesler pillaged Tom's munchie machine. 3. Our new principal was Dr. Howard Hull B.S., M.S., and Doctorate, Indiana University.

Secretaries

The secretaries at Wawasee did their usual fine job of keeping the school and its members informed and on their toes. They typed and wrote many bulletins and memorandas for the school's benefit and took a lot of the burden off the administrators and departmental heads. They also helped office lab or their student assistants learn some of the tricks of the trade. The secretaries were a part of the school system.

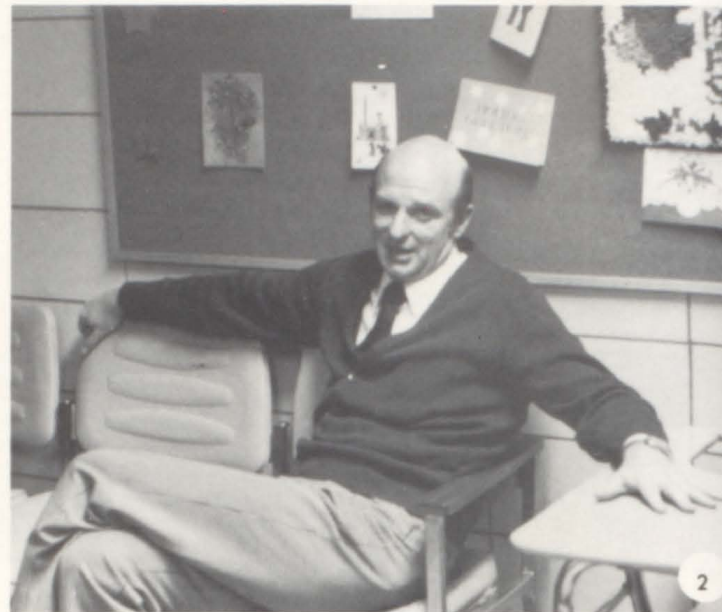

1. Our secretarial staff was Marylee Clingaman, Marlyn Klinefelter, Jean Owen, Janet Elam, Ester Rider, Susan Kraft, and Janet Hamman. Not pictured were Sally Baker and Jo Ann Robinson.
2. Mrs. Elam was caught working on some secret books.

Guidance/ISS

Guidance/ISS

1. Guidance counselors were Ruth Angle, B.A. Manchester College, M.S. Indiana University; Marilynne Curtis, B.S., M.S. Indiana University; Jack Marlette, B.S. Kalamazoo, M.A. Michigan State; Dale Brannock, B.S., M.A. Ball State. 2. Mr. Brannock stretched while he took a break. 3. Kathy Moore talked on the phone again. 4. Julie Schwartz waited to speak to the guidance counselor.

Guidance/ISS

The guidance counselors were a help to all students. They helped students pick the courses they wished to take as well as counseling and taking care of student enrollment.

ISS, headed by Ms. Angle, was a place for people who needed discipline. Students could not enter the school building while in ISS, and did extra work plus the homework given by their teachers.

Ms. Angle
NOTE
1. You cannot return to school building while in ISS!!
2. No feet on walls.

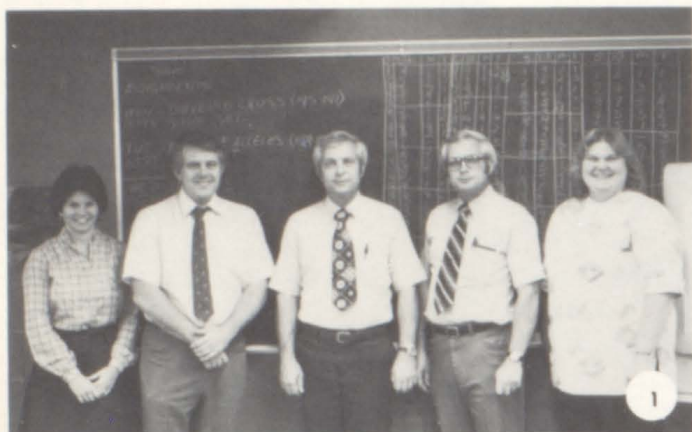

1. Ms. Angle had strict rules. 2. Mrs. Curtis after Todd's visit seemed to be a bit troubled. 3. Todd Wappas consulted Mrs. Curtis.

Science

Science

Science

1. In 1981-82 our science teachers were Pamela Schumm, B.S., Michigan State, M.A., St. Francis; Karl Keiper, B.S. Manchester College, M.S. Notre Dame; Robert Kitson, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State; William Kitson, B.S., Manchester, M.A. Ball State; Chris Kline, B.S., M.A., Ball State. 2. Patty Steele, Rob Smith, and Brenda Greuter proved another concept correct. 3. Krista Everts gave us the dazed science student look. 4. Chris Kline accepted a gift from Keith Kendall along with Mr. Keiper and Mrs. Schumm. 5. DNA came to WHS.

Science

Science

In 1981-82 our science department offered many courses. They were classified into three basic groups — biological science, analytical science, and physical science. Biological science studied life; analytical science investigated scientific beliefs and discoveries; and physical science was an introductory course into the other two. All of the courses did quite well in teaching the students.

1. Mr. Keiper gave his students plenty of labs. 2. David Blackwell and Teresa Boyer discussed their lab. 3. Mrs. Schumm helped Jeff Morgan to understand his experiment.

Mathematics

Mathematics

1. In 1981-82 Wawasee's math staff was Daryl Umbouwer B.A., Grace College, M.S., St. Francis; Chris Kline, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Judith Rossi, B.S., Penn State; Barbara Brouwer, B.A., Adrian College; and Michael Neff, B.S., M.S., Purdue University. 2. Prayer in the classroom had its uses. 3. Studying was a mathematical pastime. 4. Amy Clouse was not a typical math student. 5. Carol Meier tried to work in her cubbyhole.

Mathematics

Math offered many courses to students in 1981-82. Some courses were geometry, Algebra I and II, computer math, and calculus, among many. Math was also required. A two-year course was offered to fulfill this requirement that took an algebra book and added some basic knowledge in other mathematical areas and combined them into a two-year course. If this course wasn't taken, the student could take Algebra I, which usually led to geometry, Algebra II and precalculus. Also offered was business math.

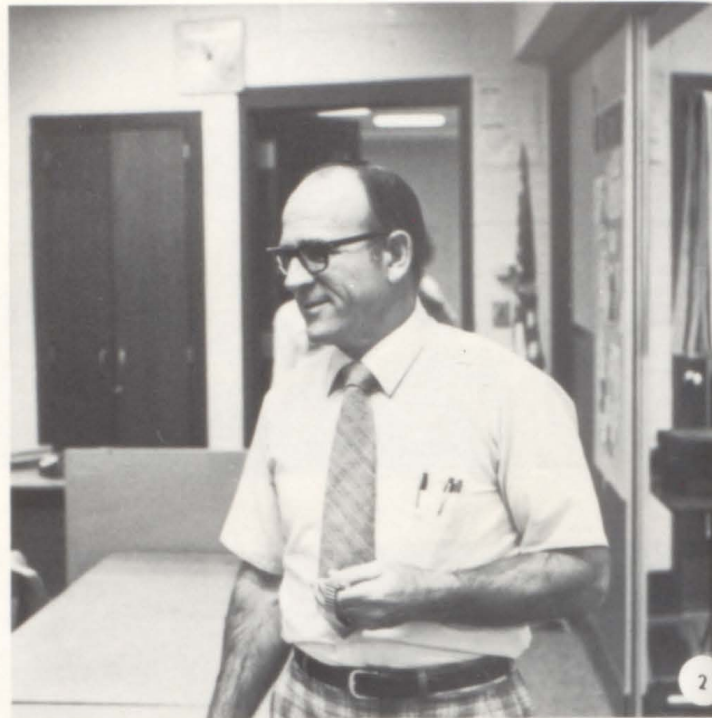

1. Miss Brouwer enjoyed grading her students papers. 2. Clint Carden eyed his pencil.

Social Sciences

Social Sciences

1. Our 1981-82 social science department gave us a coy smile: Hal Traviola, B.A. Wabash College, M.A., Ball State; Terry Iden, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Ron Corson, B.A., Manchester College, M.A., Ball State; Vernon Zurcher, B.S., Huntington College, M.A., Ball State; Richard Welborn, B.S., Indiana University, M.S., Indiana State. 2. Mr. Zurcher showed that time was a factor. 3. Kathie Jones and Mr. Iden told jokes during our open house while Teresa Pang admonished Laura Jones about her extrovertive tendencies. 4. Mr. Corson tried to tell another political joke to the photographer.

Social Sciences

Social Science had a two year requirement that everyone obeyed. It included one year each of United States History and United States Government, or a semester each of psychology and sociology to replace government. Many seventh semester graduates took the second option over the U.S. Government option.

1. Her speech must have been bad. Even she fell asleep. 2. Jacqueline ("Twink") Taylor was a very trusting person. 3. This was no place to study math, and that was a fact!

Language Arts

Language Arts

1. Our cheerful language arts staff was Row 1: Pam Pletcher, B.S., M.S., Indiana University; Linda Harkleroad, B.A., Wittenberg University, M.A., Notre Dame; Max Ellen Medich, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Phillip Fawley, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State; Row 2: Stanley Grabowicz, B.A., Saint Francis, M.A., Notre Dame; Edei Smith; Norma Rush, A.B., Manchester; Cheryl King B.A., Franklin College; Linda Baumgartner; Ann Dahlstrom; Alan Zerkel, B.S., Manchester, M.S., Purdue; Joel Robbins, B.A., Ball State, M.S., Purdue; and Terry Iden, B.S., M.A., Ball State. 2. Sandy Moore tried to be creative in year-book. 3. "There goes your daily grade, Mr. Glon!" — from Terry Iden's grade book. 4. Mr. Kobberman (on wall) spied over Julie Gilson's shoulder. 5. Mr. Zerkel counted his fingers, again.

Language Arts

Language arts was a required course that all students took for at least three years. Many students did, however, take it throughout high school. Among the courses were year-book, newspaper, freshman, sophomore, junior and senior English. College Prep 11 and 12 were excellent in their ability to prepare students for college. Also offered were courses in theater, radio, and reading comprehension.

1. Our sly Phil Fawley waited at his usual corner. 2. Rhonda Black was in her usual spot and frame-of-mind.

1. The LRC staff was Janet Allen and Bill Guinther, B.S., M.L.S., Indiana University. 2. Marilyn Klinefelter was the A.V. secretary. 3. Julie Schieler looked like she had a hard day. 4. Tim Crum was not camera shy. 5. Mrs. Allen was busy at work.

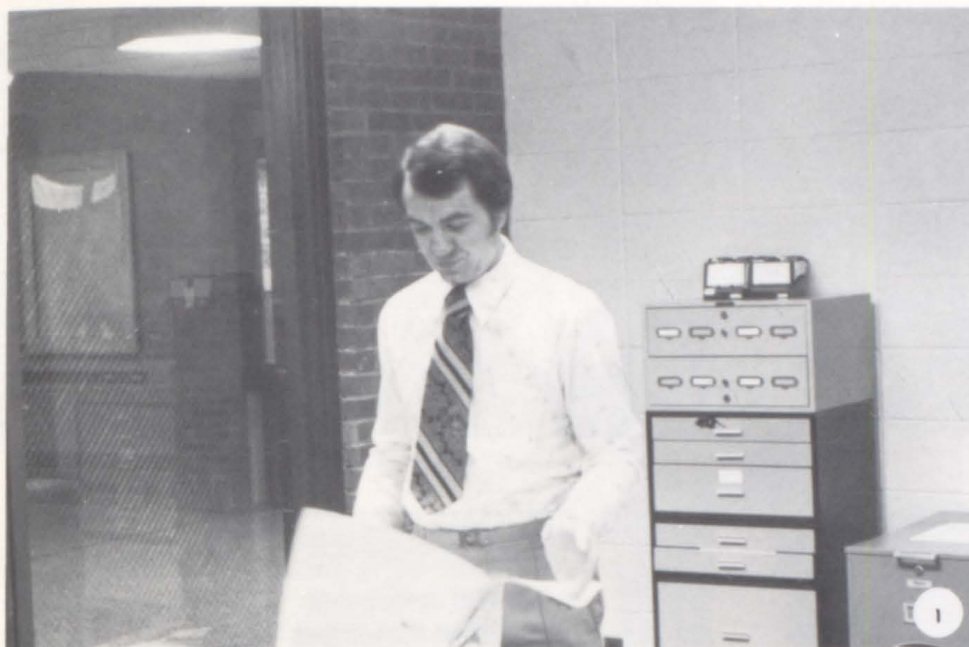

LRC/AV

LRC/AV

The Learning Resource Center was used by students who had research papers and reports and also for studying and furthering knowledge. Also in the L.R.C. was the Audio Visual Department which fixed our broken film projectors and recorders.

1. Mr. Guinther was very interested in the paper. 2. Fred Blasing did not look too happy. 3. Mel Carr and Danae Wilson worked with the A.V. equipment.

Business Ed.

Business Ed.

1. Our business staff was Don Storey, B.S., Manchester, M.A., St. Francis; Eldon Ummel, B.S., Manchester, M.S., Indiana University; Jerry Minton, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State; Patricia Huber, B.S., Indiana State, M.S., Indiana University; Gary Baker, B.S., M.S., Ball State. 2. These student typists were attentive to their work. 3. Suzanne Hill seemed to enjoy making mistakes. 4. Rod Vanlaningham concentrated on his work.

Business Ed.

Some of the many courses needed to prepare students for the vocation of business were Typing I and II, Accounting I and II, Shorthand I and II, and General Business. Most of the students taking these courses were mainly going directly into a job after high school.

1. Chris Bause checked to make sure everything was right. 2. Gayle Swartz looked over the work she did. 3. Everyone did her job well.

PE/Health

PE/Health

PE/Health

PE/Health

PE/Health

Physical education was required for only one year, but many chose to take it for majors, exceeding the requirement. Also in this section students were required to take at least one semester of health and one semester of careers, giving the students an introduction to the emotional, sexual, and physical lives of human beings.

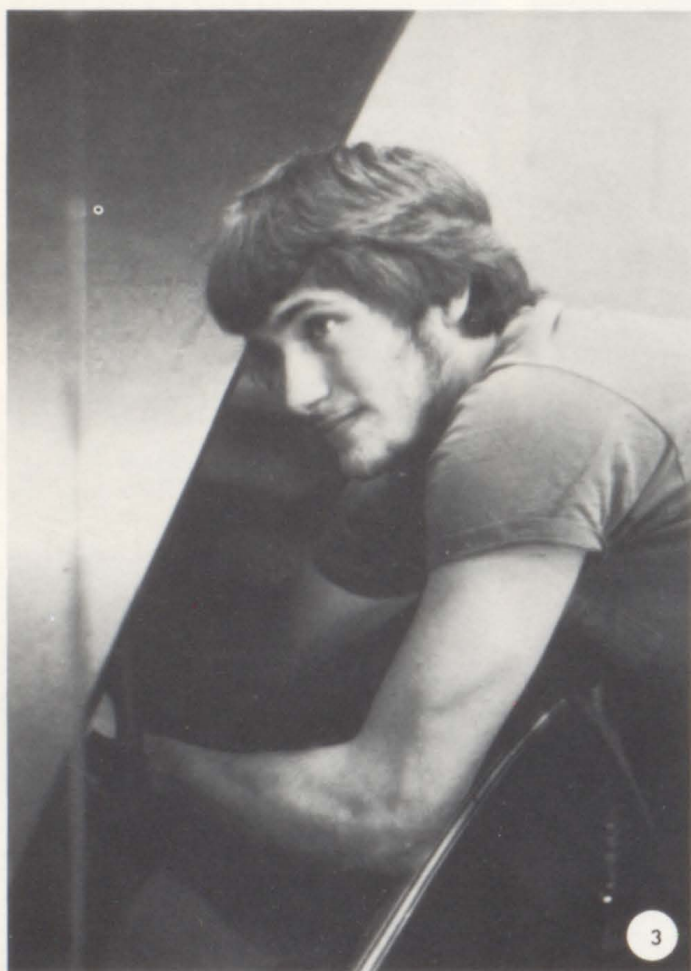

1. What a serve! 2. Greg Price was happy to find the correct answer. Opposite page: 1. Our 1981-82 PE/Health department members were John Wysong, B.S., Tri-State, M.S., I.U.S.B.; Annette Batson; Cindy Peterson, B.S., M.A., Ball State; Terri Stevens, B.A., Adrian College; Dave Baumgartner, B.A., Purdue University; and Tim Caldwell, B.A., Eureka M.S., Illinois State. 2. Jeff Carden didn't seem too serious about finding a career.

Industrial Ed.

Industrial Ed.

Industrial arts teachers were Jim Alford, B.S., M.A. Ball State; Myron Dickerson, B.S., Ball State, M.A. St. Francis; George Vitaniemi, B.S., Indiana State, M.A.E. Ball State; Lee Troyer, auto mechanics; Rudy Cesco, B.A., M.A. Ball State; Randy Warren, B.S., M.S. Purdue; Tom Robinson, auto mechanics; Richard Wysong, B.S. Indiana State. 2. John Brito posed for a picture. 3. Dean Anderson took a quick look up. 4. Eric Beer worked busily.

Industrial Ed.

Industrial arts classes were designed to help students further their education in the fields of farming, drafting, woodworking, and metals. Most people who took these classes enjoyed them and the classes enabled students to learn and improve their skills.

1. What a smile, Greg! 2. Tony Boyer looked at the finished product. 3. Jim Rhoades worked very intently. 4. These students worked busily.

Vocational Ed.

Vocational Education was devised to provide many courses for students who were interested in a career in drafting, wood-working, home economics, and other such courses. Most classes had full enrollment and utilized all of the students' creative skills.

Our vocational education teachers were Gene Deusler I.E.D. Vocational License; Lee Troyer, auto mechanics; Sally Hanson, B.S., M.S., Purdue University; Tom Robinson, auto mechanics; Jan Baumgartner, B.S., M.S., Ball State; Richard Wysong, B.S., M.S., Indiana State; Pat Huber, B.S. Indiana State, M.S. Indiana University; Jerry Minton, B.S., Manchester, M.A., Ball State. 2. Sam Moorehouse, busy at work, paid little attention to our photographer. 3. Rick Hall was working hard.

Foreign Language

Foreign Language was essential for college and helpful for a future job. Wawasee offered three foreign languages: Spanish, French, and Latin. All these languages dealt with how other countries communicated, lived, and their costumes.

1. Foreign language teachers were Stanley Grabowicz, B.A., St. Francis M.A., Notre Dame; Norma Rush, A.B., Manchester. 2. Jay Glon and Erik Bartman played charades. 3. This class was very attentive.

Art

Art

1. Our talented art teachers for 1981-82 were Nancy Glon; Cynthia Bryan, B.S., M.S., Ball State, and Jerry Johnson, B.A.E. Heron School of Art, M.A.E., Ball State. 2. Kevin Marks gave Noe Gonzales some ideas on "artful dodging." 3. Brian Collins was fascinated by his fingers. 4. Renee McNeal put finishing touches on her Commercial Art project. 5. Dawn Maze might have been drawing a self-portrait.

Art

Art was among the more popular classes that students took throughout their high school class schedules. The student of the art classes learned tones, textures, and different media of painting and also used them in a variety of ways such as abstract, still life, and other painting techniques. They also practiced pottery, and some did quite well in the production of their clay products.

1. Mr. Johnson tried to visualize Jon Jorczak's idea. 2. Ross Dahlstrom didn't like the pictures, but Rick Pena did. 3. The art staff had a way to mesmerize their students.

Home Ec

Home Ec.

Home Ec.

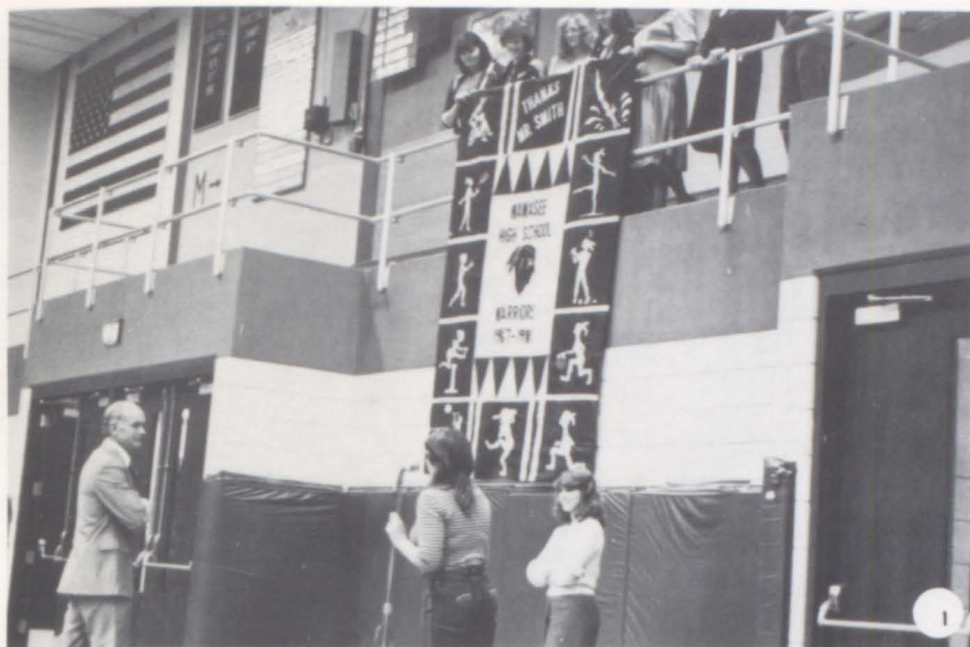

1. Our home economics instructors were Jan Baumgartner, B.S., M.S., Ball State; and Sally Hansen, B.S., M.S., Purdue University. 2. Mrs. Hansen gave Sherri Gooding a few pointers. 3. Julie Gilson tried to look completely innocent. 4. Jeanie Dean paid close attention to her work.

Home Ec.

Home Ec.

Home economics offered many classes for young men and women to create an increased understanding of single living including cooking, budgeting, and other important factors. It also offered the traditional sewing and cooking classes.

1. The girls of occupational sewing gave Mr. Smith a quilt with remembrances of Wawasee on it. 2. Kelly Rockenbaugh smiled to keep her machine happy.

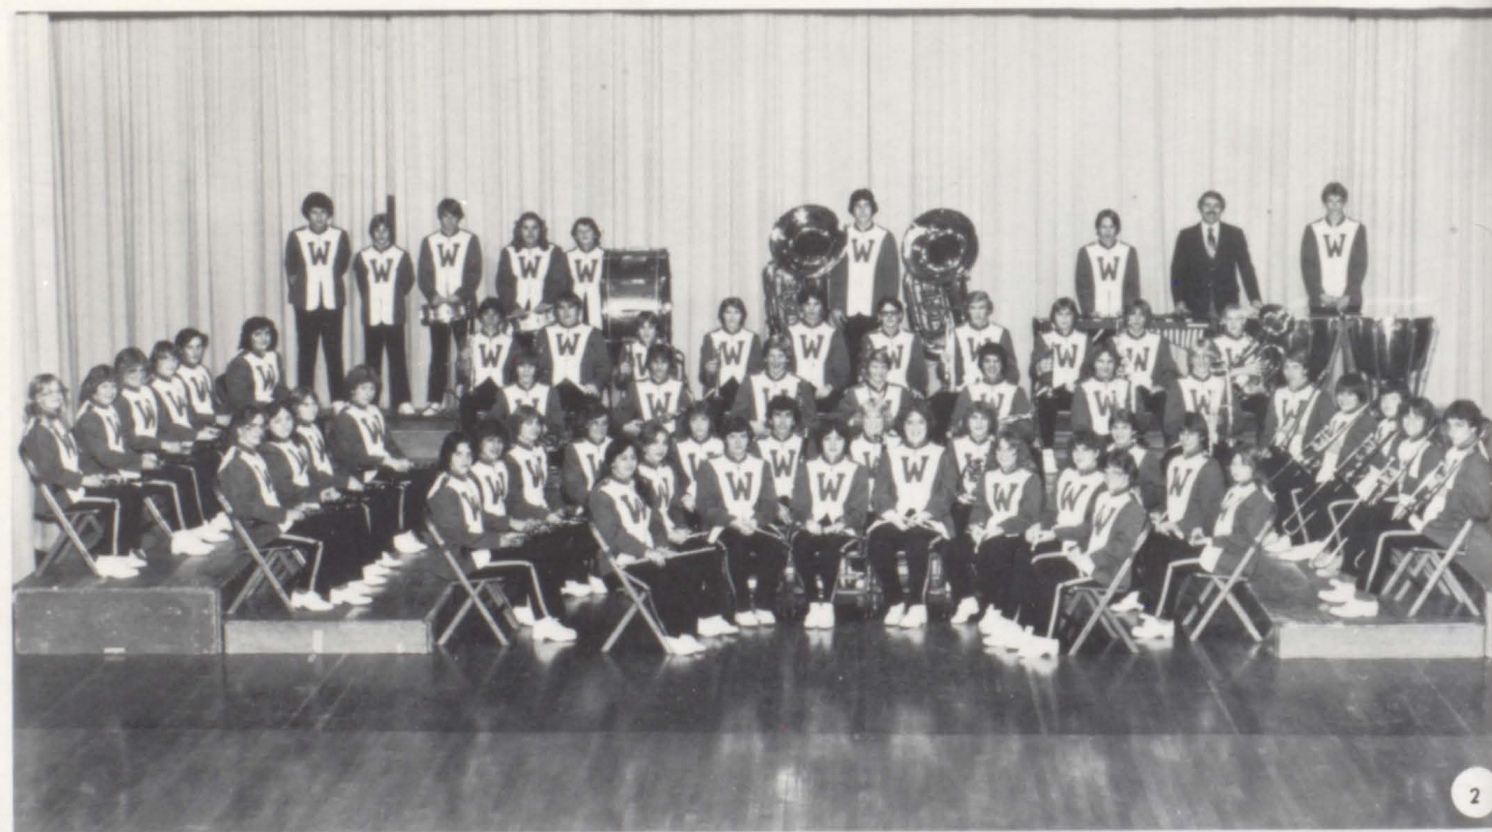

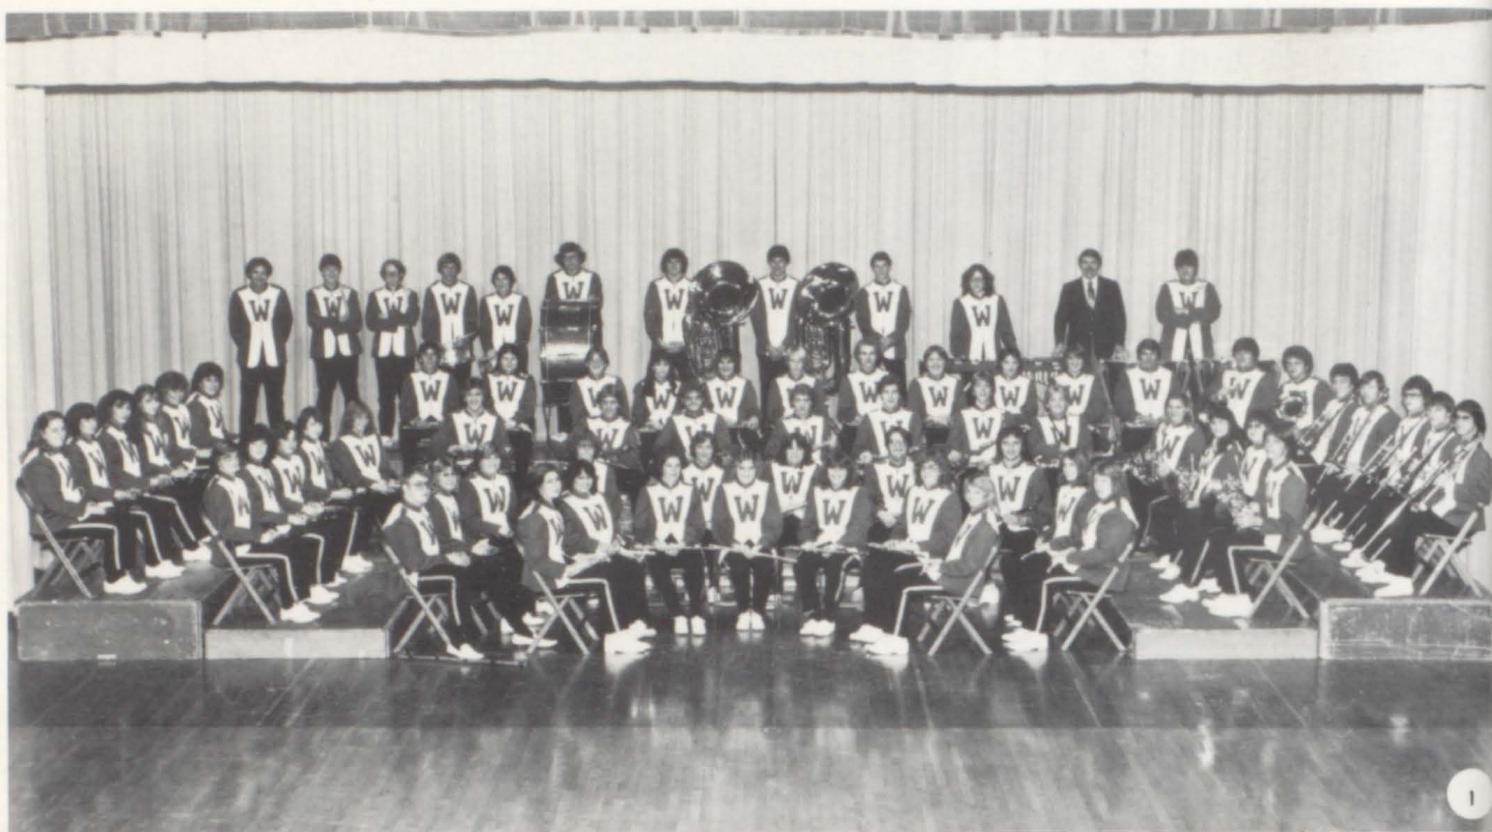

Band

Band

Band

Band

The bands put on concerts for the public's and the students' listening. Most of the concerts followed a basic seasonal theme with musical selections to fit the season. Also offered through the band department were Music Theory and Music Composition, among others.

Orchestra

Orchestra

Orchestra

Orchestra

Orchestra

The orchestra at Wawasee performed many concerts for the public and the students. They also learned new playing positions in order to improve or increase their knowledge of their instruments. An orchestra did not consist of only stringed instruments. It was really an arrangement of strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion instruments created to give a greater variety of sound to the music being played.

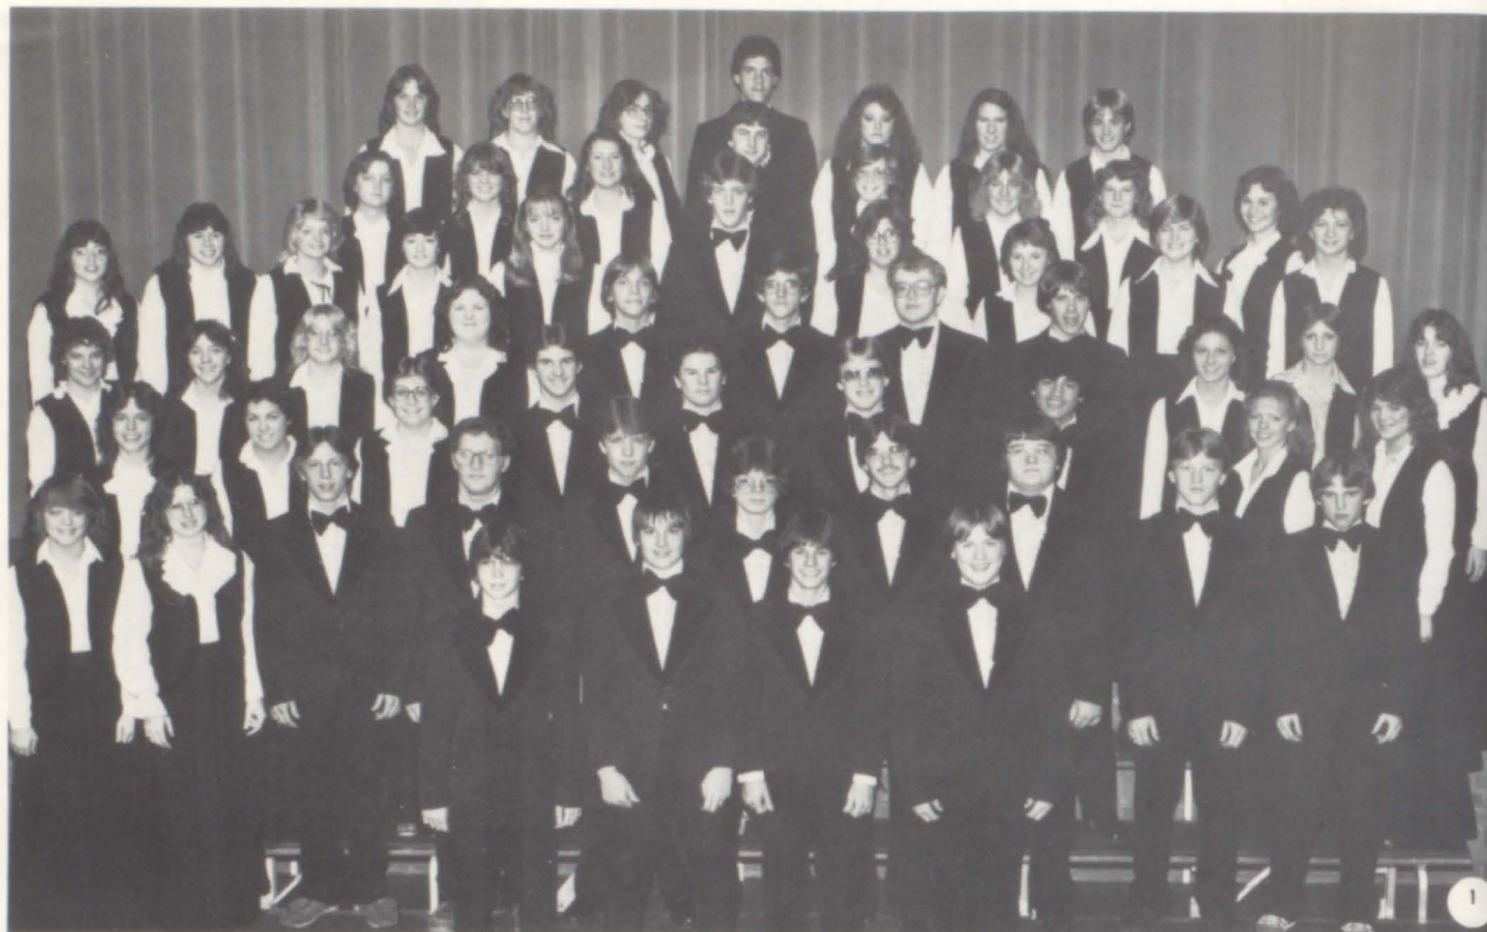

Opposite page: 1. Douglas Krantz was the assistant orchestra director, B.A., Indiana State. 2. Steven Bailey was the orchestra director, B.S., Ball State, M.S., St. Francis. 3. This was the 1981-82 full orchestra. This page: 1. Susie Schumucker tried her best to hold her violin's strings on.

Choir

Choir

Choir

Choir

The Choirs at Wawasee gave many hours of enjoyment to the community during their concerts. They put in many hours of practice for their seasonal concert, in which the band and orchestra joined them. They also gave performances outside the school.

1. This was the 1981-82 treble choir. 2. Steven Bailey, B.S., Ball State, M.S., St. Francis, was the choir director this year. Opposite page 1. The 1981-82 Concert Choir. 2. The 1981-82 Mixed Choir.

Cooks

Once again our cooks prepared many delicious meals during the school year. The ladies on the staff did their best to stay within their budget and still give the students what they enjoyed to eat the most. They also cleaned up after the students finished. Not only did they cook for the student body, they also helped the seniors with their breakfast and banquet, a great service for the seniors.

1. Our cooks were Diane Schrock, Pauline Firestone, Jackie Dunithan, Phyllis Metzger, Lois Koher, Lois Murray, Vivian Kern, and Marilyn Grindle and also Millie Coy. 2. Alice Miller was caught attacking the goodies rack. 3. Marilyn "fast knife" Grindle taught those vegies a lesson!

Custodians

Wawasee High School had a group of "staffers" who kept the high school clean and habitable. They were the members of the custodial staff. They were the ones who cleaned up after convocations, waxed the floors, fixed the plumbing, and swept the class rooms at the end of the day. Many custodians worked at night so their many chores could be completed.

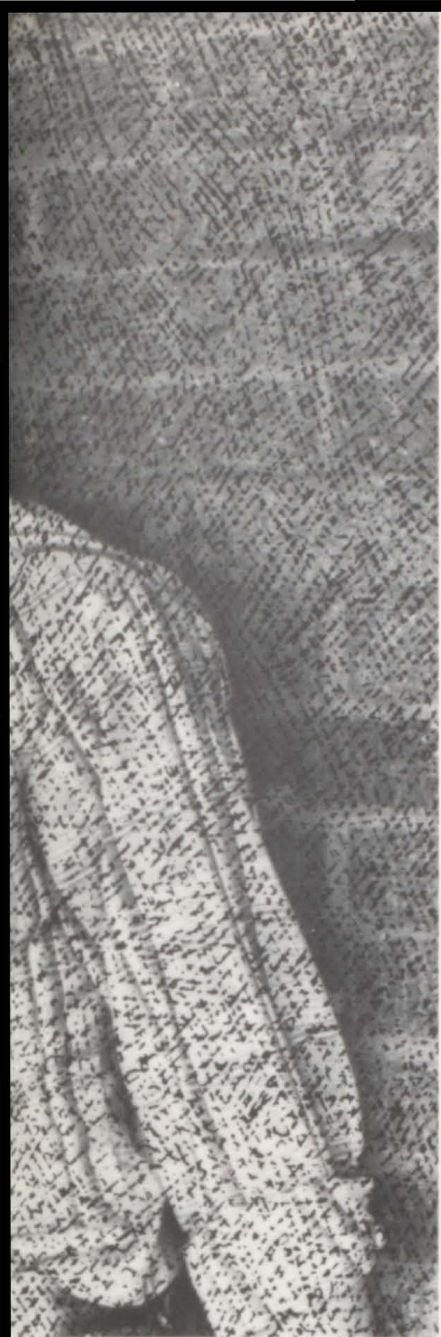

1. On the rocks were Arnold Grindle, Vincent Messina, and Norman Robbie; standing were Gilbert Hamilton, Roy Stiffler, and Vivian Kern. 2. Roy Stiffler mopped the floor.

Classes, ballgames, friends, and dates,

Our past four years were filled.

Memories of these will remain with us as we

Entered into the next chapter of our lives.

So anxious we were for our senior year,

And now it has sailed on by.

In 1982 we said goodbye and

Left Wawasee to finally come sail

AWAY!

Captains

A great year is ahead for seniors.

Opposite page: 1 Lori Berger caught a lake breeze. 2 Government seemed to have gotten the best of Nancy Norman. 3 Chris Hare showed the photographer his best side. 4 The Senior Class Council members were Sue Geyer, Jill Haab, Nancy Norman, Tonda Yeager, Joni Schultz, Ronda Black, Sonya Crow, Angie Laub, and (seated) Lori Staley, president. This page: 1 Steve Nyikos eyed the newspaper suspiciously. 2 Kevin Marks concentrated on his work. 3 The lake did not seem to appeal to Brian Brannock. 4 The world of senior composition was more than Elaine Karesh could handle.

Homecoming sparks senior pride.

This year's senior class won the most original banner award. A lot of time and effort went into our class banner. The end product was the result of many students' work.

This was the first year for banner competition, and it had mixed reviews. But, by making banners instead of floats, the classes were able to save money, and the crowd got to see them on the field. More clubs were able to enter the competition also.

The homecoming convo was composed of class skits. The seniors used many signs to get their spirit up. Some very unusual signs were submitted, but a few had to be rejected because of the wording. All things considered, the seniors had a great final homecoming.

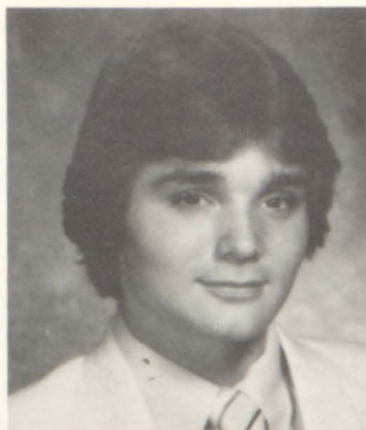

1 Annette Keim and Theresa Reichard seemed to be Siamese twins. 2 Damien Carboneau laughed at a missed shot. 3 Jeff Long snickered at his English essay. 4 Don Frew looked upset about being photographed with Suzy Schmucker. Opposite Page: 1 Portia Price displayed one of the seniors' many signs. 2 Angie Laub looked like she was lost in space. 3 Lori Staley gave Mr. Corson a new "coat." 4 Mike Shock and Joni Schultz tried to give Bobby Wolfe a Pepsodent smile.

"To make

Steve Slabaugh displayed senior apathy.

School was a happy place for Sonya Crow.

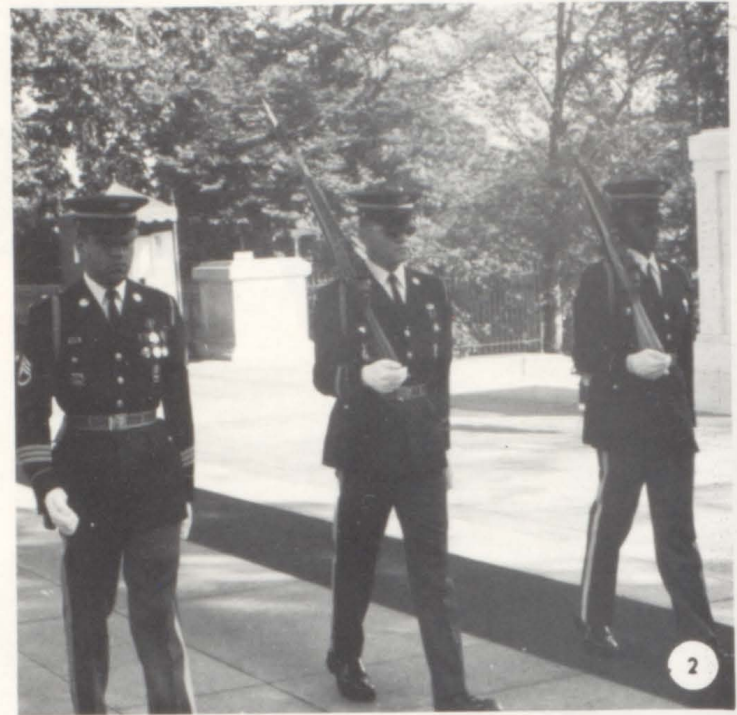

1. What was Don Roulo up to in the girls' restroom? 2. Class finally got of Amy Coverstone. 3. Lonie Sieglinger proofread her work. 4. The barrage of homework caught Sarah Dain off guard. 5. Mike Shock and Kathy Moore discussed pressing tax problems.

Seniors explore Washington.

1. The Jefferson Memorial was viewed from the Washington Monument. 2. The seniors watched the changing of the guard. 3. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier drew a large crowd. 4. Carol Meier flipped over D.C. Opposite Page: 1. This group of seniors fed the pigeons. 2. Senior guys visited the grave of John F. Kennedy. 3. Gregg Gant missed a good shot. 4. Pigeons made up more than half of D.C.'s population.

This year's senior class got up awfully early on October 21, in order to fly to Washington D.C. Our trip was a marvel of organization; we waited in the wrong area at the airport, and were delayed at boarding time.

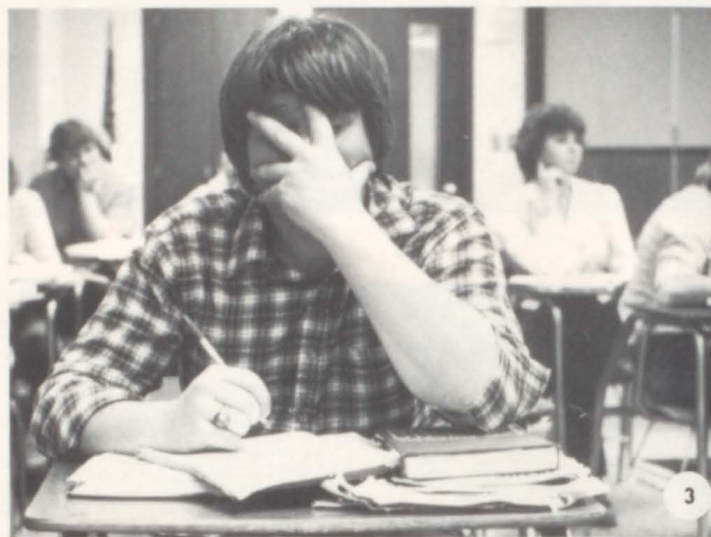

When we arrived in Washington, we piled into buses and headed for the monuments and tourist attractions. The first three hours or so were filled with walking, riding, talking, and picture taking. The places we visited included the Lincoln Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery, the White House and the Federal Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

At this point in our trip, the group split in two. Those who were interested in the museums and the other sites of Washington were let off at the Mall. The more civic minded group went on to visit the Supreme Court Building, the Library of Congress, and the Capitol Building. This group sat in on a session of the House of Representatives and witnessed a vote.

Our trip was over when we arrived back at the school around 9:30 p.m. Even though everyone was extremely tired, we were glad that we had spent the time, effort, and money for the trip.

1. Carol Meier displayed her usual cheerful demeanor. 2. The guidance office served as a rest stop for Beth Pritchard. 3. It couldn't have been that bad, Chris. 4. Stacy Wall didn't seem to be paying attention to her teacher.

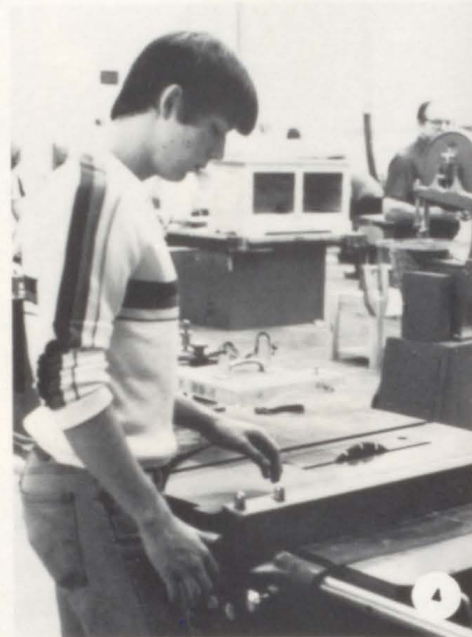

1. Ken Paulus and Debbi Haab learned to work in committees. 2. Laughter was one of Lydia Garza's favorite school pastimes. 3. Jay Auer didn't always look so grumpy. 4. Norine Sorensen must have missed whatever it was that excited her classmates.

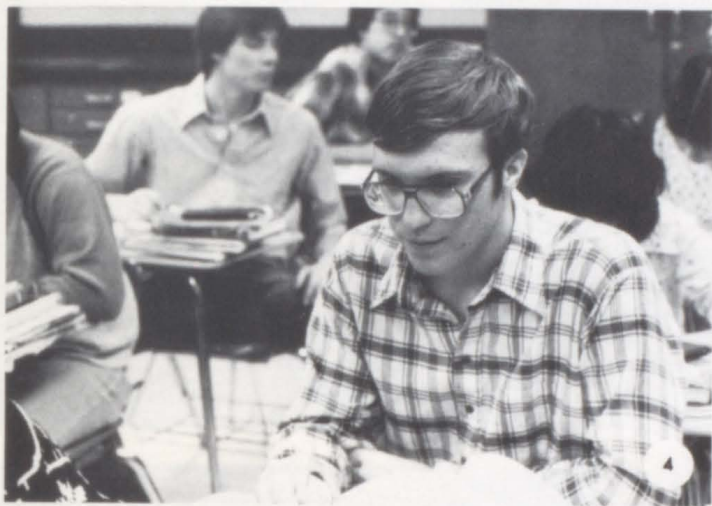

1. Sherri Gooding always looked on the brighter side of life. 2. Shauna McDonald eyed the camera suspiciously. 3. The classic play Oedipus kept Jay Auer and Greta Hurd enthralled. 4. Kirk Stichter worked on his shop project. 5. Were your tax problems that exciting, Scott? Opposite page: 1. Beth Walker wasn't quite sure about the contents of the bottle. 2. Team work was a key word for Dawn Engleberth and Terry Elliot. 3. Jeff Long tried to get Julie Laird's attention. 4. Bill Harting day dreamed during physics. 5. Jerry Feldman created his own fun.

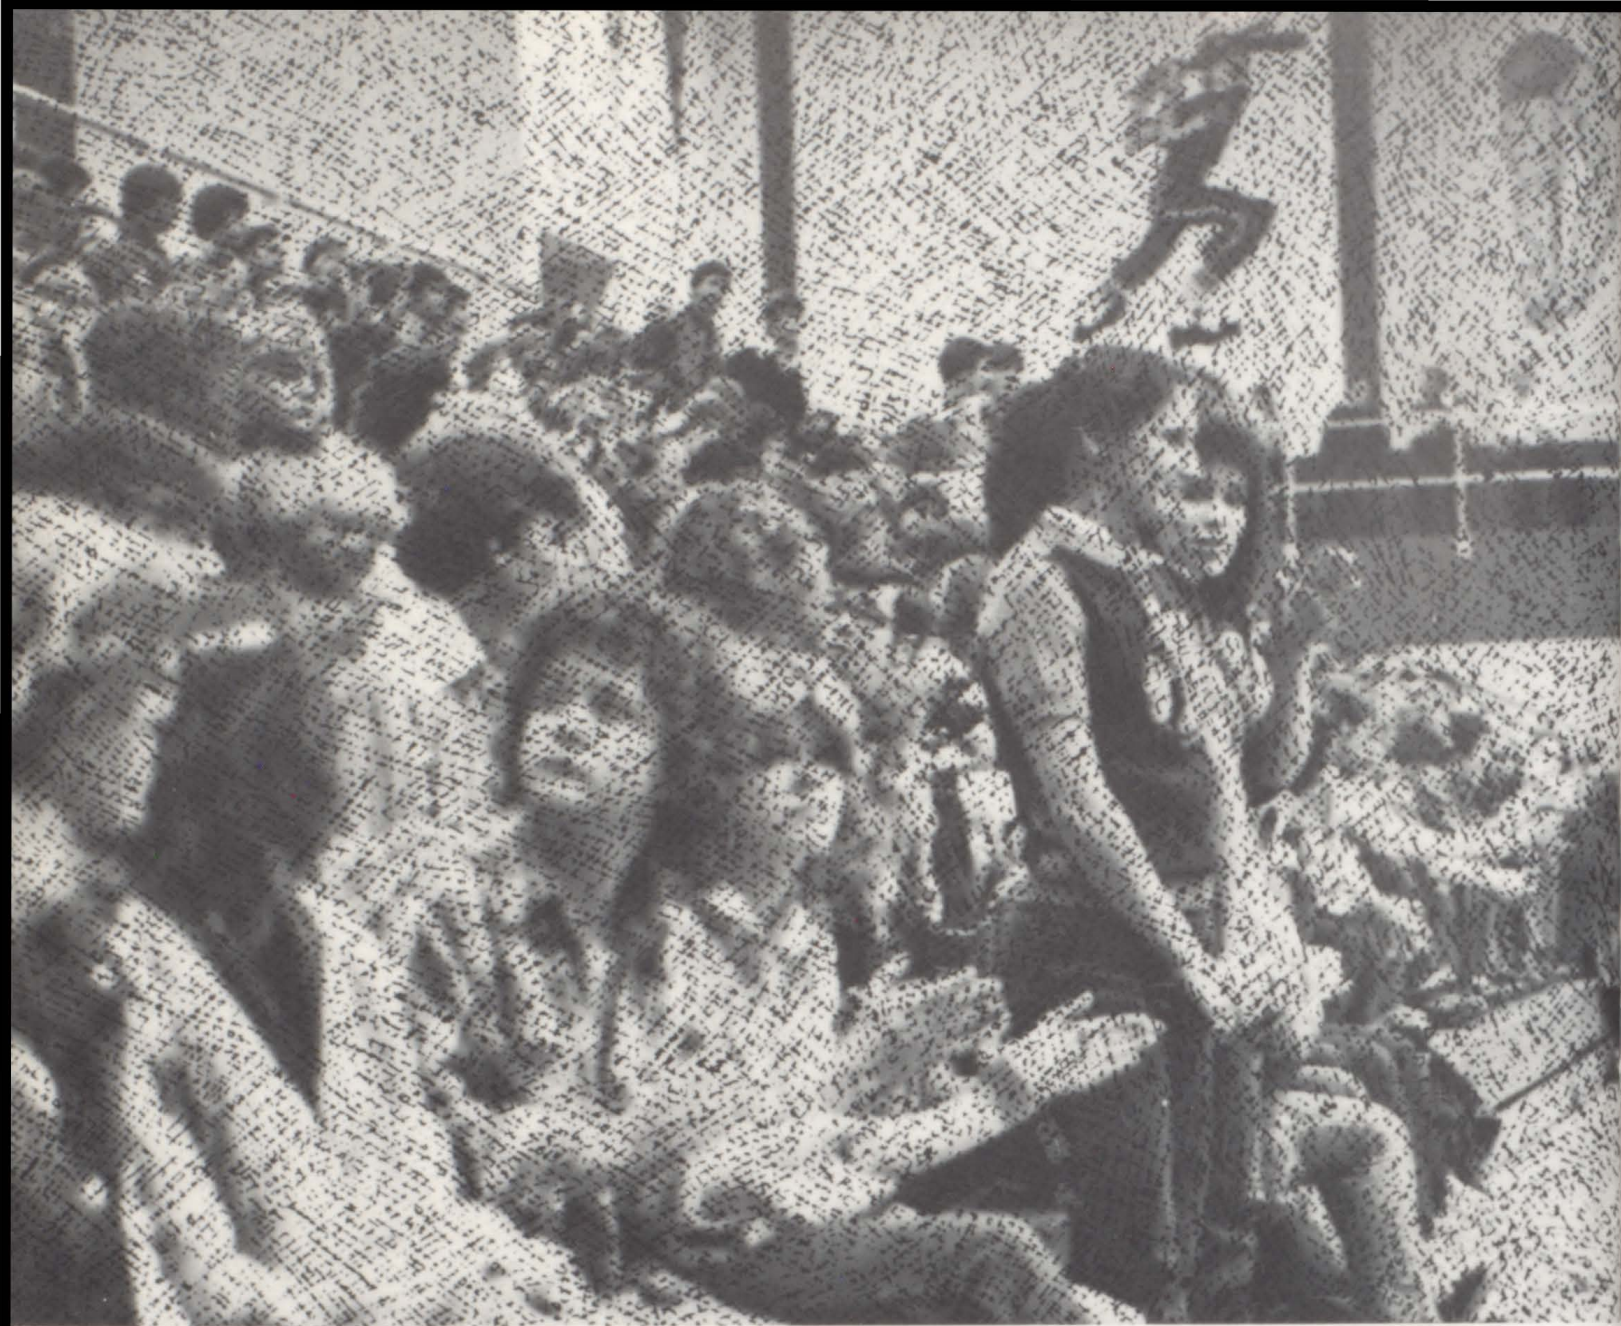

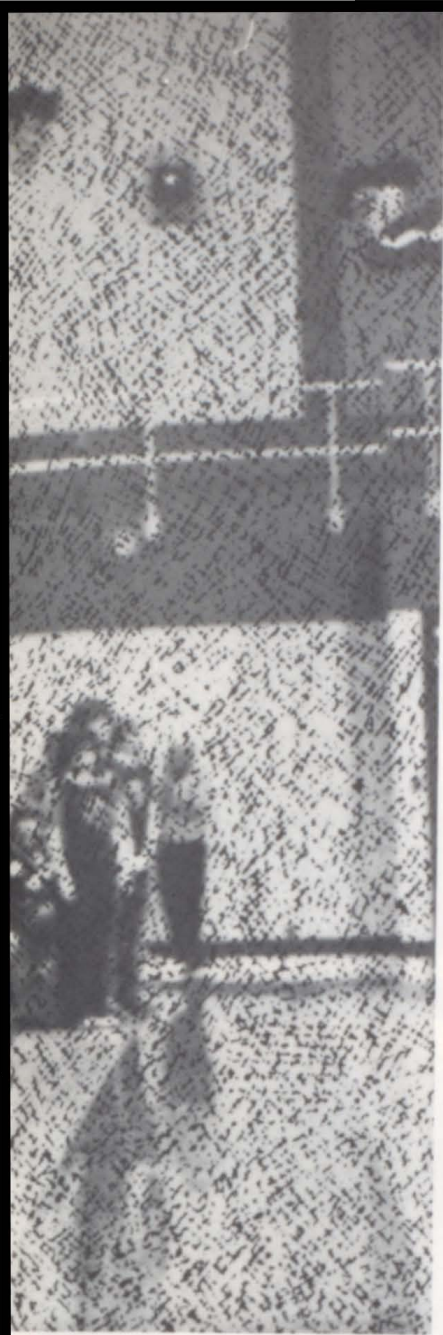

We finally made it
 To the end of our road.
 Now we must decide
 Which way we're to go.
 Some will move with
 Direction ahead,
 Others may sit and wait
 To be led.
 But each will continue
 To journey and fleet.
 And someday, hopefully,
 Our paths will again meet.

Somewhere, hopefully, on down the road . . .

Classmates for the past years we shared
Our good times and
Moments of trouble.
Each one contributed

Something of himself which
Aided in making WHS what
It was. The time went quickly. Let's make it
Last, Let's come sail

Basic Training

The J.V. have what it takes.

The J.V. football team had a season's record of 4-4. The team was very competitive and worked well together. Coach Baumgartner made the comment that they looked very promising for the years to come. Many of the J.V. players, at one time or another, helped out on the Varsity team. The J.V. team members were shown and listed on the previous page.

1. The Warriors played good defense. 2. Which player received the pass? 3. An opponent was grounded for his actions. 4. What a hit! 5. Watching was never as much fun as playing.

Football kicks off the season of sports.

This year's Varsity Football Team ended the season with a 3-7 record. Coach Dickerson stated that the team played impressive defense this year but lacked good offense. The competing teams this year were more challenging than previous years. This year's awards were presented to the following: Most Valuable Player Award, Kevin Marks; Outstanding Defense, Tony Hunziker; Outstanding Offense, Marshall Boyer; Most Improved Player, Mark DeWitt; Pride Hustle and Desire Award, John Stuckman, and the Pepsi Outstanding Performance Award was presented to Pat Morgenthaler. Kevin Marks and Tony Hunziker made 1st team all conference this year. Those on the 2nd team all conference were Pat Morgenthaler and Ross Dahlstrom; and Jay Glon made honorable mention all conference. Next year's captains will be Eric Beer and Ross Dahlstrom.

1. John Stuckman wanted practice to pay off. 2. Members of the football team were Row 1: Coach Dickerson, E. Beer, J. Glon, M. DeWitt, M. Boyer, R. Cusick, P. Morgenthaler, K. Marks, J. Stuckman, T. Hunziker, R. Gerber, M. Brian, K. Harney, Coach Baumgartner; Row 2: T. Reiff, M. Patty, T. Freiheit, R. Pena, B. Kistler, D. Roberts, K. Turner, J. Glon, S. Shanahan, D. Green, P. Hare, R. Dahlstrom, J. Bales, J. Thorn, Coach Humes; Row 3: Coach Hansen, P. Lagro, R. Wuthrich, S. White, K. Davies, J. Milbern, J. Morgan, R. Martin, J. Carden, M. Arnold, J. Vitaniemi, T. Frazer, D. Melendez, M. Cavendar, A. Reed, R. Stuckman, L. Flannery; Row 4: Trainer B. Goshert, Manager J. Slabaugh, Manager P. Hardy, T. Thornburg, K. Cox, R. Schwartz, T. Blackburn, T. Troup, J. Roberts, J. Cramsie, P. Price, and D. Doll.

1. Run for your life — the Warriors are coming! 2. Mike Brian should have tried ballet sometime. 3. The team huddled for some hints. 4. This was fun Friday night football?

The freshmen have a trying season.

The freshman football team had a difficult 1981 season under Coach Richard Welborn and assistant Rudy Cesco. They ended their season with a record of 2 wins and 5 losses. The Warriors faced many tough opponents, but showed their grit and determination throughout the year. The coach and team members were looking forward to bigger and better things next year.

$(YB)^2 = \text{Yearbook, you bet!}$

The Yearbook staff this year had a super time putting the yearbook together. Each senior had an underclassman to teach the procedures for their section. Great friendships and good times came out of the relationships. The highlights of the year were the yearbook Christmas party and the end of the year banquet. The yearbook staff wished good luck to the yearbook staffs in the years to come.

Newspaper keeps presses rolling.

The newspaper staff gained writing ability along with newspaper experience from putting out Smoke Signals. A tradition at Wawasee, it provided much reading and enjoyment for its readers. As an added activity, the Smoke Signals staff had a money making activity by selling bulletin boards to raise money so they could keep putting out the newspaper. Continuing the Smoke Signal tradition, this staff put out a great paper and had a good time doing it.

1. The members of the newspaper staff were Row 1: M. Siegfried, J. Goen, T. Gillum; Row 2: J. Schwartz, C. Cobbum, G. Miller; Row 3: J. Robbins, sponsor, B. Zimmerman, J. Stoelting, R. Schutt, D. Gerstner, A. Kleinrichert; Row 4: M. E. Prickett, K. Jones, W. Street, L. Bonner. 2. G. Miller gave R. Schutt some juicy gossip.

NHS celebrates knowledge.

The National Honor Society was once again an active group. In addition to honoring students for maintaining a 3.5 grade point average, the NHS served as a social club for these students. Several parties were held throughout the year ranging from the annual Thanksgiving progressive dinner, to a welcome party for Dr. Hull, to a haystack party. These parties gave students with similar interests a chance to get to know each other better. The highlight of the year was the Penny Pitch sponsored by NHS which gave many less fortunate families in the Lakeland community an opportunity to enjoy Christmas dinner.

1. The senior NHS members were Row 1: L. Kammerer, P. Price, S. Parker, S. Miller, T. Davis, B. Brannock; Row 2: B. Harting, V. Price, P. Siegfried, J. Steele, N. Sorensen, Mr. Fawley, sponsor, J. The Flags were an added attraction to the band this year. The girls, directed by Mr. Blackwell, added sparkle and showed their talents in their performances. A great deal of hard work and many practices were involved to put on such a show. Their routines looked good and along with the band created an attractive sight on the football field.

Rifles call the shots.

The Rifles were a group of four girls directed by Mr. Blackwell. Each girl learned different techniques and maneuvers. It took a lot of hard work and many practices to get their routines just right. The rifles performed along with the band as half-time entertainment at the football games, and they always ended up a success.

1. The members of the Rifle team were Row 1: T. Jessop, S. Wall; Row 2: R. Rouch, J. Brown. 2. Stacy and June had a show down. 3. The Rifle team stood at attention.

Pom Pons show off talent.

The Pom Pon Corps presented many versatile and enjoyable routines during the school year. Under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell, they displayed their dancing abilities along with providing another aspect to the band routines at half-time of the football games. The Pom Pons also performed at halftime of the basketball games. There they put together some interesting routines that brought enjoyment to everyone.

1. The Pom Pon girls were Row 1: J. Gruter, L. Richardson, D. Kamph, S. Payne, K. Hoover, P. Steele; Row 2: R. Kinsey, A. Troup, K. Moore, S. Guy, K. McQuillian, A. Glassley. 2. Pom Pons danced the night away.

Pep Band entertains the fans.

The pep band consisted of band members who wanted to create spirit along with half-time entertainment for our fans and basketball players. They played really good songs such as "Rapture" and "On Broadway." The pep band also helped the cheerleaders out by adding music to their cheers. As a whole, the pep band created excitement along with spirit at all of our basketball games.

1. The members of the pep band were Row 1: L. Keim, T. Stump, C. Harris, T. Littleton, S. Snyder, M. Courtney, C. Cotton, B. Mansfield, K. Walker, M. Sharp; Row 2: R. Mangona, K. Enyeart, T. Three of the FCA officers were Todd Reiff, president, Carol Walker, treasurer, and Carla Clouse, secretary.

Varsity Club shines bright!

1. The members of the Varsity Club were Row 1: J. Stuckman, C. Walker, M. Ruch, M. Brian, K. Marks, T. Cox, T. Yeager, C. Charleton; Row 2: K. Harney, B. Kistler, R. Pena, R. Dahlstrom, P. Hare, M. Walker, J. Carden, K. Zurcher, J. Auer, J. Atwood, T. Boyer, J. Glon, D. Roberts, D. Workman, A. Kleinrichert; Row 3: M. Packer, C. Walker, K. Blade, K. Smith, F. Cone, J. Auer, A. Wysong, S. Shanahan, T. Crum, G. Day, J. Bales, T. Reiff, B. Walls, E. Beer, R. Rouch, C. Clouse. 2. K. Stichter and D. Rouch showed enthusiasm. 3. S. Shanahan looked seductive.

The Varsity Club was a great outlet for our male and female athletes at WHS to show their spirit in another way besides sports. All members were very proud of the varsity jackets and letters they had received.

FEA learns to teach.

1. The FEA members were Row 1: C. Myrick, S. Payne; Row 2: S. Crow, L. Jones, R. Black; Row 3: S. Smith, S. Boyd, L. Staley, A. Bushong, Mr. Iden, sponsor, Bob Morgan. 2. Was Lori helping make cookie plates for the teachers or helping eat the cookies? 3. This FEA Homecoming banner displayed talent.

The FEA club, sponsored by Mr. Iden, participated in several major activities. One of these activities was known as the Smoking Sam program. This program was designed to show the 4th and 5th grades the hazards of cigarette smoking. Another one of their activities was the ELF program. In this program each member chose a teacher and gave him little notes and gifts to brighten his day. Each member was known as an Elf and remained anonymous to her teacher. They also participated in a teacher observation day.

FHA prepares its members.

The FHA Club helped its members prepare for the future. The girls, sponsored by Mrs. Baumgartner and Mrs. Hanson, learned many techniques in baking. They made cookies at Christmas time for the Day Care Center, and they also made cookies for the nursing home on Valentine's Day.

1. The FHA members were Row 1: Mrs. Baumgartner, sponsor, A. Shidler, S. Snyder, M. Nemeth, C. Harris, K. Templin, Mrs. Hanson, sponsor; Row 2: S. Smith, S. Guy, K. Hoover, R. Kinsey, M. Taylor, A. Bess. 2. Marcia and Michele worked really hard on the FHA homecoming banner. 3. What was it that distracted Mrs. Baumgartner's attention?

FFA gains honors.

1. R. Pollock, were you reading or asleep? 2. Mike Shock read a good farming article. 3. The members of the FFA were Row 1: S. Templin, T. Alt, R. Beer, A. Ferverda, M. Schafer, R. Pollock, J. Rhodes; Row 2: B. Kistler, S. Tethrake, S. Barker, C. Cotton, T. Klein, D. Workman, M. Shock; Row 3: J. Feldman, T. Elliot, S. Parsons, C. Beezley, A. List, J. Coy, M. Williams, K. Cox, D. Roberts, K. Clark, K. Schafer.

Future Farmers of America provided a club for those students interested in farming. The members of FFA won many awards for soil judging. They also participated in a slave auction where members were sold to do work for the community. WHS was very proud of its FFA members.

DECA Club means business.

The DECA club, sponsored by Mr. Minton, involved both juniors and seniors enrolled in Sales and Merchandising class and who were interested in business careers. DECA enjoyed many activities involving the business world such as working in the bookstore and senior work release. The work release program allowed seniors to receive knowledge in business.

Jazz Band sticks to the beat.

1. The members of the Jazz band were Row 1: S. Shanahan, J. Schenkel, J. Schmal, B. Dixon, B. Galloway, K. Haney, T. Gillum; Row 2: S. Eastlund, K. Everts, G. Miller, K. Miller, T. Troup, P. Gardner, D. Blackwell; Row 3: L. Keim, G. Hurd, K. Butcher, T. Yeager, J. Egolf, M. Courtney, G. Henderson, T. Littlefield, D. Enright, J. McClure. 2. Tony showed his talent. 3. Ron gave it all he had.

The Jazz Band members were a group of very talented musicians selected by Mr. Blackwell. This year, unfortunately, the Jazz Band members didn't get to participate in the band contest because of bad weather conditions. However, the Jazz Band still performed many fine concerts including a tour of the junior highs.

Varsity Singers add sparkle.

1. The members of the Varsity Singers Row 1: K. Enyeart, L. Pederson, M. Walker, H. Yoder, B. Dixon; Row 2: S. Badskey, M. Medlock, A. Meek, R. Elias; Row 3: S. Miller, T. Jessop, R. Elias, S. Schmucker, L. Beer, D. Gilbert, S. Dain; Row 4: M. Shock, M. Coldren, K. Long, S. Shanahan, D. Fiandt, D. Frew, D. Coy, T. Littlefield, R. Pena, J. Ruch. 2. A. Beer practiced her smile. 3. S. Miller led the dance.

The talented people in Varsity Singers created many beautiful moments. Giving concerts at school and throughout the year, they brought sounds of joy and smiles to each audience. During the second semester they spent their spare time raising money for their trip to New York.

Drama Club plays the part.

1. The members of the Drama Club were Row 1: D. Willard, S. Bowman, A. Steffen, S. Bright, K. Hart, R. Stewart, S. Snyder, R. Mangona, P. McFarland, T. Noel, M. Hooley, T. Stump; Row 2: C. Knotts, S. Freel, L. Pederson, J. Vale, M. Fisher, M. Taylor, K. Mock, S. Guy, A. Wise, S. Garza, M. Coldren, D. Justice, S. Smith, L. Beer, D. Daenens; Row 3: J. Ruch, M. Gray, T. Powell, K. Long, D. Gilbert, L. Keim, B. Dixon, E. Bartman, J. Jorczak, T. Maggart; Row 4: S. Schmucker, G. Miller, S. Miller, S. Dain, D. Frew, K. Moore, S. Parker, R. Niles, J. Wright, J. Stoelting. 2. In the play The Mouse that Roared Mike bowed to Darcy. 3. Tammy Noel sang a sweet song in the play The Mouse that Roared.

The Drama Club members all played a very important part in both the spring and fall plays. Everyone participated, not just in the cast, but also in helping with make-up, with the stage, and with the props. The club had many play practices which involved a lot of hard work and time, but always ended up with a successful and very enjoyable production.

FLC communicates.

1. The members of the Foreign Language Club were: J. Schultz, N. Norman, P. Price, B. Brannock, J. Glon, D. Ladd, J. Taylor, L. Bonner, E. Bartman, N. Meyers, S. Grabowicz, sponsor, N. Rush, sponsor. 2. P. Price wasn't as interested in French as N. Norman was. 3. J. Glon expressed himself.

The Foreign Language Club gave an international touch to WHS. It expanded the horizons of the foreign language students and provided time for them to use their specific language.

Math Club calculates their moves.

The Math Club, sponsored by Mr. Neff, learned how to solve many difficult problems by using the computers. They also experienced many intellectual activities such as taking trips to different businesses. By taking the trips, the Math Club learned how the computer terminals worked and the different ways the computers were used.

1. Math Club members were Row 1: R. Niles, B. Fisher, J. Holle, B. Beaty, D. Uhl, R. Beenen, P. McFarland, E. Bartman, S. Alford, Mr. Neff, sponsor, S. Parker. 2. Scott helped program the computer.

Art Club draws the line.

The Art Club created their spirit by adding color to WHS. From their Homecoming banner to the Spring Art Show, they brought to life their beautiful creations.

1. The Art Club members were Row 1: T. Burkett, S. Cox, N. Meyers, C. Knotts, K. Templin, R. McNeal; Row 2: J. Johnson, sponsor, J. Brito, J. Latour, R. Vanlaningham, L. Keim, D. Feller, B. Feters, T. Stutzman, C. Bryan, sponsor, N. Glon, sponsor. 2. Art Club showed spirit at Homecoming. 3. N. Glon and C. Bryan discussed a color scheme.

Ski Club enjoys snow.

1. The members of the Ski Club were Row 1: L. Hole, A. Rice, C. Williams, G. Smith, T. Smith, B. Galloway, K. Cox; Row 2: S. Dunithan, S. Rogers, L. Krych, R. Scheminske, M. Shock, N. Meyers, A. List, M. Sharp, L. Keener, M. Warren; Row 3: J. Bales, S. Shanahan, B. Morgan, T. Tranter, L. Staley, N. Norman, S. Crow, P. Price, A. Laub, B. Guinther, sponsor; Row 4: C. Knotts, J. Schenkel, C. Beardslee, S. Smith, S. Johnson, S. Guyer, K. Paulus. 2. S. Rogers and A. List posed in front of the snow. 3. Ski Club members played in the snow.

The Ski Club this year was very active. With several trips to Michigan and to Mt. Wawasee, they enjoyed their skiing season. Back at WHS during home room, they saw films about all kinds of skiing. The ski club learned about downhill racing and cross country skiing. Ski club was one club that didn't mind all the snow days!

Senior Leaders share knowledge.

The Senior Leaders were a group of seniors who enjoyed gym class and sharing their experiences. They helped the teachers conduct the gym classes by taking attendance, setting up equipment, and participating in games. Everyone benefited from the senior leaders at WHS.

1. The Senior Leaders were Row 1: J. Howe, L. Hale, C. McDaniel, A. Hall, B. Collins, M. Boyer; Row 2: A. Hostetler, C. Lambert, S. Kline, T. Hunziker, T. Yeager. 2. S. Kline relaxed before her next gym class.

Student Government assemblies.

Student Government was an active organization. One of the highlights of the year was the Student Council Convention which was held at Delta High School. At Delta they spent many hours drawing up a school constitution. Back at WHS, the group learned a lot about parliamentary procedure. The Student Council and its sponsor, Mr. Corson, was looking forward to more participation in school affairs next year.

1. The members of the Student Government were Row 1: C. Cobbum, S. Bright, B. Greuter, M. Siegfried, J. Schwartz, V. Kissinger, G. Miller, T. Yeager, T. Gillum, T. Smith, R. Beer, R. Stucko; Row 2: J. Morgan, M. Walker, R. Wuthrich, A. Reed, T. Troup, S. Cox, K. Haney, M. Baumgartner, C. Clouse; Row 3: J. Wozniak, K. Everts, S. Eastlund, T. Crum, C. Walker, R. Rouch, A. Wysong, D. Roberts; Row 4: K. Butcher, A. Beer, A. Laub, S. Crow, J. Schultz, J. Haab, S. Geyer. 2. President K. Butcher looked concerned with an important matter.
